Southern Local May Delay Closing

There is a possibility the proposed closing of three Southern Local School District elementary schools and adoption of "double sessions" can be delayed.

The possibility is based on two developments:

1. — Organization of a districtwide committee to undertake repairs at two schools and to study financing to determine if a special election on a school levy can be held in January.

2. — Word from a state official that an order to close the Franklin School because of a fire hazard was in error.

BOARD OF Education members pointed out that the proposed major revision of school schedules and the closings stemmed basically from the order to shut down the Franklin School.

Charles Allison, board president, received the letter yesterday from C. R. Daubenmire, acting chief of the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations building division.

Daubenmire said the order of Oct. 30, ordering the closing of the Franklin School by Nov. 21 because of the need to remove a gas - fired heating appliance "was in error" because the school had been built prior to the regulation governing the case, and the regulation did not apply.

Allison said the estimated cost of replacing the heating system at Franklin along with the expense of roof repairs at No. 16 and Salineville Schools resulted in the board's action to close the No. 16, Wayne and Franklin Schools and hold morning sessions and afternoon sessions to 7 p.m. at the other schools, starting Dec. 5.

At a citizens' meeting attended by a large crowd at the Wayne Grange Hall Friday night, Allison explained the district's financing problems, made acute by the failure of a proposed 4.4-mill levy in the Nov. 8 general election.

JACK HISCOX of near Lisbon, president of the Wayne Home & School Association, was in charge of the session, which also was attended by Southern Local Board members John Ewing and Phillip Maher.

A question - and - answer period was held.

The group decided to proceed with plans to organize a general committee to undertake at its own expense the repairs to the No. 16 and Salineville Schools and to study the district's finances.

Allison said Fred Johnson and a group of residents of the Summitville area already have installed the needed fire escape at the Franklin School at their expense. He said the Highlandtown and Wayne Schools do not need repairs.

Allison said he plans to call a special meeting of the board Wednesday night at 7 at the high school to discuss the committee's efforts and the change in the state's order to close Franklin.

He said he plans to propose a six-week delay in the planned changes in the school schedules and closing of three schools.

Should the committee, after a study of school finances, decide a levy is needed to continue minimum operations with the present schedule, Allison said the committee may seek to hold a special election in January at its expense. He said the board has no money at present to pay for the cost of such an election, estimated at $1,300.

Representatives to the committee will be selected from the Wayne, Franklin, No. 16, Highlandtown and Salineville areas. Hiscox will serve as coordinator for the group.

Fred Johnson of Summitville and a number of others have indicated they will serve on the committee, Allison said.

Patrol Car Chases, Halts Train To Prevent Tragedy

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) —An Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser chased a railroad train about five miles Friday night in a successful attempt to stop it before it crashed into a car that had wrecked on a crossing, pinning the driver inside.

"All I know is I had to get him stopped," said Corporal Edmund McGowan of the Steubenville patrol post.

The train stopped about 2,000 feet short of a Pennsylvania Railroad crossing where James E. Maumaw, 23, of Mingo Junction, was trapped in his car.

McGowan said the patrol dispatcher radioed him that the control tower in Toronto had been unable to reach the train in time to stop it.

The patrol officer chased the train about two miles down Ohio 7, which parallels the railroad tracks, before he caught up with it. He attracted the attention of the engineer with the cruiser's spotlight and red flasher, he said.

"The engineer said he got about half a signal from the control tower when he came through Toronto," McGowan said. "Then he saw me and knew something was wrong."

McGowan said an ambulance had parked beside the road north of the accident scene. "When the engineer saw his lights and the fuses (flares) he had put out, he knew something was wrong and hit the brakes," he said.

Investigating patrolman said Maumaw's car slid backwards off the highway, flew over a guardrail, smashed against a retaining wall and came to rest on its side on the tracks.

A hospital spokesman said Maumaw was in satisfactory condition today, suffering from multiple cuts, bruises and abrasions and a possible back injury.

McGowan, a 15 - year patrol veteran, has been at the Steubenville post 2½ years. He formerly was at the Warren post.

Smog Cover Holds Grip In New York

Light Rain, Wind Fail To Alleviate Situation In East

NEW YORK (AP) — Light overnight rain and an increase in wind movement failed today to break the smog cover that has gripped the city for four days.

But for most of the smog-stricken Eastern seaboard the air pollution crisis was lifting with the entry of rain and wind.

The New York City Department of Air Pollution continued its antipollution alert and the Weather Bureau said a minor improvement in the dirty air had occurred, but nothing like what was expected.

The Weather Bureau said rain helps "clear the atmosphere of fine dust particles."

The wind shift from south to northwesterly was so light that it appeared to have little effect in improving air conditions.

Sunshine and increasing winds were expected to clear the air further, but no one was breathing easy yet.

Since Wednesday the inert air, getting dirtier all the while, clung over communities from Massachusetts to Maryland. Hardest hit were metropolitan areas with their mass industry and transit.

New York City, Connecticut and New Jersey were placed on antipollution alerts. A voluntary ban on use of cars was urged.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller ordered a first alert against pollution for the New York City area. First alerts, also in effect in New Jersey and Connecticut, are voluntary as are second alerts. A third alert is mandatory and would shut

Tragedy Near Saigon

U.S. Plane Crash In Viet Kills 27

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport crashed and burned tonight near Saigon's airport, killing all 27 persons aboard, U.S. military officials said

It was believed the plane, a twin-engine C47 Dakota, lost power in one of its engines shortly after taking off from the Tan Son Nhut airfield in the outskirts of the capital and the pilot was trying to return to the airport when the plane plunged into a swampy area.

It was believed all aboard were military personnel, but this was not confirmed immediately.

The plane was en route to Pleiku, 240 miles north of Saigon in the central highlands.

An Air Force officer said the transports can carry a maximum of 45 passengers.

The piston-engine C47, which was used extensively in World War II, is the military version of the DC3.

It is not uncommon for Viet Cong snipers to fire at planes landing or taking off from Tan Son Nhut, but officers said there was no indication of ground fire when the C47 went down.

The crash site was about 350 yards from the nearest road.

Air Force officers said it could not immediately be determined how many of those aboard the flight were Americans. The U.S. Air Force planes at times carry Vietnamese or other allied personnel.

Officers said it would be impossible to move heavy rescue equipment to the crash site before daylight.

Judge Grants Injunction To Halt Teacher Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Common Pleas Judge Elwyn V. Jenkens granted a temporary injunction today ordering the halt of the teachers' strike in the Youngstown schools.

He ordered that classes are to begin and all picketing to end Monday morning, with all teachers back at their jobs. He set 9:30 a. m. Tuesday for a hearing on the merits of the case to make the injunction permanent.

The action came this morning after attorney John Weed Powers filed the petition on behalf of five Youngstown mothers who are representing the parents in the city as a class of people.

In handing down the decision, Judge Jenkens told the women. "I am satisfied that you are right. The legal action taken involves an illegal act on the part of the teachers."

The judge said he was bypassing a local court ruling forbidding even temporary injunctions in disputes involving labor unions or public officials without a hearing.

"We are not concerned particularly with a labor union. But we are concerned with individuals who are creating this situation," he said. He added that the rights of people must come first and that the "right of a continuing and legal education system is about as basic a right as we have."

The judge said he was bypassing a local court ruling forbidding even temporary injunctions in disputes involving labor unions or public officials without a hearing.

"We are not concerned particularly with a labor union. But we are concerned with individuals who are creating this situation," he said. He added that the rights of people must come first and that the "right of a continuing and legal education system is about as basic a right as we have."

Some 32,000 school children here and in nearby Hubbard got a weeklong vacation as a result of the strike. The youngsters would have missed part of the

Bosh Addresses Group

Work Of Salvation Army Outlined For Lions Club

"Facts About The Salvation Army" were presented in a talk by Capt. Richard Bosh, in charge of the Citadel at 413 E. 4th St., during the Lions Club luncheon meeting Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Bosh made use of charts which outlined the organizational structure of the "Army" from its five national regional headquarters to its 1,117 neighborhood, church, fellowship and welfare centers.

Subdivisions in various communities include the Home League, a women's group; the League of Mercy, which renders assistance to hospital patients; children's groups; the "Prison brigade," which aids families of jailed individuals, and the Golden Age Club.

The Salvation Army also performs a service during the Christmas season through its collections and to victims in times of disaster, the director pointed out.

He traced the growth of the organization in England in 1865 by William Booth, who left the Methodist ministry to "go out into the streets." The name "Salvation Army" was adopted in 1878, and since then the organization has been extended to 69 countries throughout the world.

It was established in the United States in 1880.

Bosh outlined requirements for joining the Corps, which he defined as an "international religious and charitable organization based on love of God and love of man." He summarized training requirements for "officers and soldiers" within the ranks of the Salvation Army.

Bosh was introduced by Ralph Compa, program chairman.

Ed Shingler, president, reported on the zone meeting Tuesday in Lisbon, attended by eight members of the local club.

The invocation was given by Compa.

Seeks To Re-Open Case

Bailey Says He Knows 2 Killers Of Mrs. Sheppard

By TOM GARDNER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorney F. Lee Bailey said he has asked the police chief of suburban Bay Village to re-open the 12-year-old murder case of Marilyn Sheppard and said he told the chief who the two killers are.

In a speech at Cleveland's city Club Friday, Bailey said "not one, but two murderers are walking about the United States, possibly in your own community."

Bailey last week won an acquittal for Samuel H. Sheppard, who was charged with second-degree murder in the July 4, 1954, bludgeon slaving of his first wife at their Bay Village home.

Bay Village Chief Fred Drenkham said after Bailey's speech that he will follow through on some of the evidence in the attorney's 15-page letter, but added that he did not intend to reopen the investigation now.

Drenkhan said the names of two alleged killers were in the letter. The chief said he would check with all departments which were involved in the original investigation, but added, "some of the evidence in the letter we have looked into, some we have not, some we cannot."

A great deal of Bailey's letter contained supposition and projection which pointed at the two slayers he named, Drenkhan said, but he expressed doubt that new evidence would be easily uncovered after 12 years.

In his speech, Bailey said the "dozens of Sam Sheppards now in jail" point up the need for some kind of nonpolitical review board to check jury decisions.

He said such a board could take cases in which defense counsel feels his client was wrongly convicted. Bailey said he has had such cases and has been unable to free the client because there was no error of law in the trial to warrant an appeal.

"All constitutional rights would go out the window to get at the truth," he said. He recommended that such a board be permitted to use hypnosis, lie detectors and, possibly, truth serum, to determine the defendant's innocence or guilt.

Bailey called on newsmen "who have been shouting for freedom of the press" to fight court orders such as that of Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge Francis J. Talty which limited the number of newsmen at the Sheppard retrial.

"Pretty soon a judge will decide which newspaper he favors and give it all the seats," he said.

Recent decisions by the U.S Supreme Court "never intended that the free press be shackled in any way," he said. "I hope the day will never come when the judicial will be able to rise one-half inch above the free press. They should be pillars standing as equals."

Labor Chief Not Going To Face Court

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz will not have to appear in federal court in Columbia for contempt proceedings in a wage and hour case.

Chief Judge Clement F. Haynesworth Jr. signed an order Friday, overruling a directive by District Judge Robert Hemphill that Wirtz appear to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt

The Labor Department had refused to give the names of informants after the department charged two Darlington firms — Southeastern Reconditioning and C.L.C — with not paying the required minimum wage of $1.25 an hour and withholding overtime pay. Both firms are automobile repair concerns

Friday's ruling ordered that Hemphill "vacate his direction" to Wirtz to release the names of the informants and "to impose no other sanction for the secretary's refusal to answer interventors."

The ruling said that although Wirtz did not "enjoy any special immunity," the contempt citation was directed at him instead of some subordinate in the Department of Labor who actually made the decision not to answer.

At a hearing held Wednesday by a three-judge federal panel, Justice Department attorney David Rose said it would not be in the public interest to force Wirtz to leave his duties in Washington to appear in court.

By Council, City Officials

Proposed Rt. 7 Changes Are Studied At Wellsville

Wellsville Council and other city officials are continuing a study of proposed changes in the route for the relocation of Route 7 through the community.

Earl Nelson, Division 11 engineer from the New Philadelphia office of the Ohio Highway Department, presented the city a set of plans, at a private meeting Wednesday night. Members of Council, Mayor William Daugherty, Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare and Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara attended.

The new plans call for a change in the location of the highway from Lisbon St. east to the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Previously, the plans called for the highway to take up considerable land on the river side of the present road. Council asked for changes, indicating it wanted to save the land for future industrial expansion.

Nelson also presented a change in an interchange at a mid-way point of the highway through the community.

Council must give its approval to the plans before the Highway Department can continue. Nelson asked for immediate action.

Jerusalem Gripped In State Of Siege, Curfew Clamped

JERUSALEM, Jordanian Sector (AP) — A state of siege gripped Jerusalem and most of the Holy Land of Jordan today after troops opened fire on anti-government demonstrators in Jerusalem's walled city Friday, killing two and seriously wounding six.

Jerusalem was placed under curfew at sundown after a funeral procession for the two dead turned into another anti-government demonstration outside the walls of the old city.

Arab Legion troops took over the city, patrolling its deserted streets and blocking all access roads.

Telephone communications with the outside world were cut off Friday evening.

The Holy City was shut tight this morning. Its streets were empty except for police patrols and truckloads of troops.

Steel-helmeted Arab Legionnaires were posted on rooftops and walls.

Labor Chief Not Going To Face Court

The Labor Department had refused to give the names of informants after the department charged two Darlington firms — Southeastern Reconditioning and C.I.C — with not paying the required minimum wage of $1.25 an hour and withholding overtime pay. Both firms are automobile repair concerns.

Friday's ruling ordered that Hemphill "vacate his direction" to Wirtz to release the names of the informants and 'to impose no other sanction for the secretary's refusal to answer interventors."

The ruling said that although Wirtz did not "enjoy any special immunity," the contempt citation was directed at him instead of some subordinate in the Department of Labor who actually made the decision not to answer.

At a hearing held Wednesday by a three-judge federal panel, Justice Department attorney David Rose said it would not be in the public interest to force Wirtz to leave his duties in Washington to appear in court.

By Council, City Officials

Proposed Rt. 7 Changes Are Studied At Wellsville

Wellsville Council and other city officials are continuing a study of proposed changes in the route for the relocation of Route 7 through the community.

Earl Nelson, Division 11 engineer from the New Philadelphia office of the Ohio Highway Department, presented the city a set of plans, at a private meeting Wednesday night. Members of Council, Mayor William Daugherty, Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare and Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara attended.

The new plans call for a change in the location of the highway from Lisbon St. east to the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Previously, the plans called for the highway to take up considerable land on the river side of the present road. Council asked for changes, indicating it wanted to save the land for future industrial expansion.

Nelson also presented a change in an interchange at a mid-way point of the highway through the community.

Council must give its approval to the plans before the Highway Department can continue. Nelson asked for immediate action.

Jerusalem Gripped In State Of Siege, Curfew Clamped

JERUSALEM, Jordanian Sector (AP) — A state of siege gripped Jerusalem and most of the Holy Land of Jordan today after troops opened fire on anti-government demonstrators in Jerusalem's walled city Friday, killing two and seriously wounding six.

Jerusalem was placed under curfew at sundown after a funeral procession for the two dead turned into another anti-government demonstration outside the walls of the old city.

Arab Legion troops took over the city, patrolling its deserted streets and blocking all access roads.

Telephone communications with the outside world were cut off Friday evening.

The Holy City was shut tight this morning. Its streets were empty except for police patrols and truckloads of troops.

Steel-helmeted Arab Legionnaires were posted on rooftops and walls.

Perilous Air Pollution Report

Anyone thinking health officials have been moaning through their hats about the seriousness of air pollution had better take a second look at New York City's Thanksgiving Day experience.

Atmospheric conditions caused the city's smog cover to rise five times above its normal level.

Health officials issued a warning to all persons suffering from a virus attack and those with a heart or lung condition to stay inside.

Pictures of the Manhattan skyline revealed only the uppermost levels of the tallest buildings protruding from the cloud of smog.

THE FULL impact of this incident is difficult to comprehend.

We are in the latter half of the 20th century — at the apex of man's progress.

We are mechanized, immunized and mesmerized in a new religion of self-accommodation.

Our country has instant travel, TV dinners and is in the midst of space exploration.

Yet we cannot even control the byproducts of our progress enough to permit our citizens to move about freely in comfort.

Due to heavy industrial and residential concentrations in our major cities, the problem is most pointed in these areas. Their experiences offer concrete evidence of what air pollution experts have been talking about.

THE ISSUE has advanced to a more serious stage.

It has been given some attention, but in a more-or-less piecemeal fashion.

It can be licked only through a nationwide coordinated effort from the local level on up.

If a workable anti-air pollution program isn't devised — and quickly — we may one day find ourselves anxiously awaiting a weather bureau report to see if it is safe to venture outside.

This hypothesis is not as farfetched as it may appear on first sight.

In 1916, who could have envisioned the world of 1966?

'When There Is No Peace'

Peace will never be declared in Viet Nam.

An armistice maybe, but not peace.

Fighting was stopped in Korea in July of 1953 with a truce, but there has been no peace agreement.

The cease-fire accord was reached with the idea that a permanent peace agreement could be worked out.

Preliminary talks began Oct. 26, 1953, and ended abruptly Dec. 12 when Arthur H. Dean, special U. S. ambassador to Korea, had his fill of Communist harassment and walked out of the Panmunjom conference.

Now, 13 years later, peace still has not been declared.

North Koreans repeatedly have violated terms of the armistice over the years and today the rate of incidents is going up steadily.

The Communists like the setup. They provided it.

One benefit of this arrangement is obvious today.

So long as there is trouble in Korea, the United States must keep troops there.

All the tropos tied up in Korea cannot be shoved into Viet Nam action.

It is not unlikely that heavy fighting will break out in Korea any day. This would split U.S. forces even more.

Modern warfare has cut through a lot of the old fasioned red tape.

Wars aren't declared and peace isn't declared.

It is a fight — quit, fight — quit procedure.

This permits Communists to call the shots so they can fight at the most advantageous moment.

The United States with its powerful weapons and well-equipped force of between 500,000 and a million men is capable of forcing a truce in Viet Nam, but peace will not be declared.

Peace just isn't in the modern military manual.

Prime Repository Of Proof

Never has there been a brighter example of devotion to culture than efforts now afoot to help the floded city of Florence. Its art treasures belonging to all mankind.

Paintings, sculptures and manuscripts destroyed or damaged by the flood disaster are the common currency of Western civilization. They are associated in one way or another with every worthwhile thing that has happened in the Christian era.

They embody the values that have survived militarism, quarrels of religionists, plots of politicians and the erosion of time.

Anything that threatens them threatens the record of Western Culture. They are the only tangible proof that men aspired to something better than cruelty and bloodshed and belatedly achieved it in rare instances during the Renaissance.

There were not many who had aspirations still fewer who could claim achievement. They were only a handful, but they and the handful of their contemporaries who understood what they were doing became the originators and guardians of modern refinement.

The wheelings and dealings, pulling and hauling, thrust and counter-thrust of politicians, soldiers, merchants princes and religious fanatics are recorded in Florence, too. What is cherished, however, is the evidence that creative artists were at work, too.

No more than one per cent of Florence's treasures have been destroyed. But when evidence of such import is concerned, one per cent is an irreparable loss to a world that regarded Florence as a prime repository of proof of civilization.

End Of A Misty Myth

If there had been any doubt about Red China's disinterest in joining the United Nations, it vanished when New China News Agency stated Nationalist China would have to be expelled and the whole organization remade to get rid of U.S.-U.S.S.R. domination.

The terms are impossible. They always have been.

It would be a service to international understanding and especially to understanding in the United States if the misiy myth of Red China's desire to muscle its way into the United Nations were dispelled forever.

Red China has no more need or desire to get into the United Nations than Ho Chi Minh has to ask for a chance to open truce negotiations with the United States.

It has no more need or desire to settle its differences peaceably with what it considers an invader than Russians have to restore German unity and thereby authorize the groundwork for another outburst of rampant German nationalism.

The myths of Red China's desire to join the United Nations, North Viet Nam's urgent need to sue for peace and German unity are threadbare. No one has believed them for years — not even the people who persisted in mouthing them.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

An offhand remark to a teenager about P. T. Barnum brought this surprising response, "Who's P. T. Barnum?"

Holy smokes! Everybody should know who P. T. Barnum was.

He was the circus man extraordinary. He invented the hocus-pocus of his time — 1810 to 1891.

He relieved the yokels of their spare cash and sent them away poorer in pocket but richer in spirit, with their eyes bugging out. Most of them knew they had been film flammed, but they liked it.

Like the fellow who used to save up his hard-earned shekels until he had $100 and then go and blow it at the racetrack. "I know it doesn't make sense but I enjoy it," he said.

The fellow was no empire builder but he helped finance the empire.

Barnun used to run Barnum & Bailey's Circus with James A. Bailey. When Bailey died in 1906 the circus was taken over by Ringling Brothers.

In case you have forgotten, Barnum's initials stand for Phineas Taylor, which is about par for a super showman.

WHAT DO YOU suppose Barnum would be promoting if he were alive today?

Circuses are still operating but they have had their heyday.

Maybe Barnum would be a Broadway mogul or television tycoon.

Now that our living rooms are saturated with television showmanship 18 hours a day, there is a good chance he might be just one more bigshot promoter lost in a crowd of bigshot promoters.

Barnum is credited with remarking, "A sucker is born every minute." Heaven help him in today's competition for suckers.

One thing he would have going for him, though, is that sometimes it seems the line between the shadow and the substance has become dimmer than it was in the long ago.

But this has always been claimed, even in the long ago. So Barnum might have risen to greater heights in today's make-believe world than he did in the world of his time.

ALL OF THIS ties in with a paragraph you wrote the other day.

You were sawing wood, of all things, when the thought occurred to you that "one thing wrong with modern living is no direct connection between benefit and effort. Human beings do not know how food, heat and shelter are made possible. They take too much for granted."

Everyone should saw wood, or the equivalent. It is good for the soul.

Word has come to me in a roundabout way that lifting the Friday meat ban for Catholics on Friday could result in an increase in goiter ailments, because ocean seafoods are rich in iodine, which helps keep goiters normal. You can take it from there.

News of the 98th birthday in Uvalde, Tex., of John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, former speaker of the House and two-term vice president, brought to mind what once was said about him by John Llewellyn Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, during one of Lewis's many run-ins with the government. Lewis called Garner "A whisky-drinking, poker-playing evil old man."

Lewis now is 36.

Testimonial Fetes Beclouded

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — Not all those who hold out their hands to charities are poor. Some of those hands are manicured and mightily muscled.

Yet they are eagerly grasped by professional fund raisers who lend the good name of many a great charity to those eager to buy virtue—through some of these are under federal indictment, government investigation or are associates or champions of men convicted by our highest courts.

Victor Riesel

From the golden handshake of these fund raisers and shady characters comes money for one side and prestige for the other. It all makes most difficult the lives of Justice Department officials who find some famed charities running testimonials for notorious characters under investigation.

It makes life difficult for honest labor leaders who find themselves besieged in the name of sweet charity to buy millions of dollars worth of tickets a year across the land — for testimonials honoring those tangling with the government.

THERE WAS A DINNER Tuesday night, Nov. 15, in the "Ironbound" section of Newark, N. J., honoring a labor leader as their Citizen of the Year. It had all the trimmings.

The testimonial was to a labor leader. The sponsor was the Red Shield Boys Club. The city's mayor and fire chief were there, along with 900 others.

The locale was right. The "Ironbound" section is made up of a network of poverty rows inside a criss-crossing of railroad tracks.

But the honored man of the year was Peter Weber. He is under federal indictment. He has been accused by the authorities of violating the Taft-Hartley law by accepting five expensive cars, credit cards and fuel for his 52-foot yacht.

He is head of the Operating Engineers Local 825, itself under investigation by the Labor Department for running an election the secretary of labor believes to be illegal.

Mr. Weber, who earlier this year told the President's Council of Economic Advisers to go to hell, also had with him an old friend and associate, Joey Fay, once all-powerful leader of this all-powerful union. He was sent to prison for extortion.

THERE WERE OTHER celebrities. But at least U.S. Sen. Clifford Case, whom the Operating Engineers helped to elect, had the good taste to send a telegram of regrets.

But this grand turnout for this staunch "Ironbound" citizen was on a high level compared with the banquet run in New York City by one of California's great charitable institutions. I will not name it here for I would not put shame in the hearts of those who reach for it with hands seeking health and succor.

Last March this institution ran a banquet at a big hotel which specializes in setting up huge daises. That night the man honored was a teamster official who has been under steady federal investigation for years.

His name runs across the pages of Sen. McClellan's racket-busting committee. (I do not refer to Jim Hoffa.) The honored man is known to be a friend of some of the shady world's most notorious characters.

Also on the dais sat the Teamsters' Tony Provenzano — then on his way to prison to serve a seven-year term for extortion.

ON THE DAIS, too, were some of the finest city, state and federal officials who merely answered the call of charity and came not knowing they would be seated with such noblemen of muscledom. Thus the charity people betrayed the decent ones who turned out to help, though the guests knew it would be one of those long stultifying evenings over leathery food.

The Justice Department tussled with this one and finally passed it by lest it embarrass an honest cause with headquarters nearly 3,000 miles distant.

More recently this same shady character, who "took the Fifth" many times before the McClellan committee, participated in a fund-raising drive for a charity dealing with badly crippled children. The drive raised some $200,000 and a luncheon was held to honor some 40 labor leaders who had given time, energy and dollars. Among them reveling amid the applause, was the teamster chap.

Now came the star speaker. In a burst of enthusiasm, this chap, the Carpenters' Nick Santiago Jr., who came out of deserved anonymity for the moment, arose.

HE THEN USED the charitable dais as a platform to urge the AFL-CIO to readmit Jim Hoffa. He was blunt, apparently forgetting that his duty was to thank the yawning assemblage for their contributions," . . . — say it's about time," said he, "for the elder statesmen in the AFL-CIO to re-evaluate their earlier decisions and have the courage to admit they made a mistake a few years ago. . . . It's high time the AFL-CIO asked the Teamsters to rejoin."

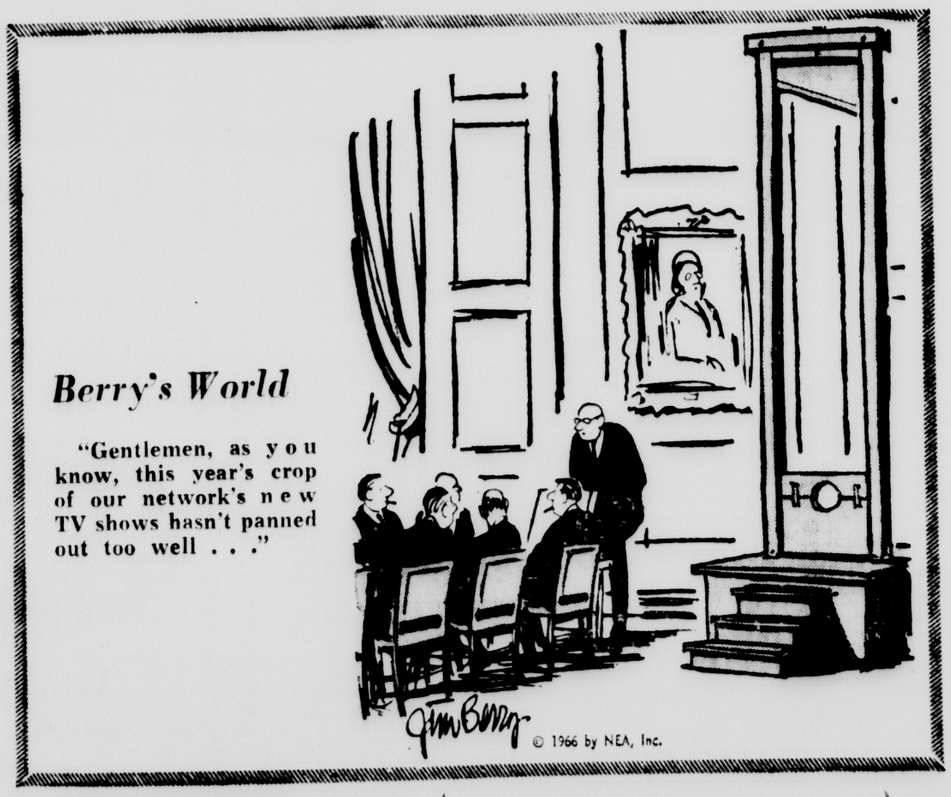

The charity's officials dutifully put this out as an official news release. If you wanted further information (I presume about the state of the unions), you could call the lady listed atop the release.

Thus it goes. The handshake may be golden for the moment. But it may lead to lean days because many a contributor — alarmed by the character of his fellow banqueteers — may decide to keep his hands in his pockets.

Odd Facts

Queen Catherine de Medicis (1519-89) decreed a standard waist measurement for the ladies of the French Court of 13 inches.

The Daimler motorcar astounded the world in 1889 by racing down roads at the then incredible speed of 11 miles an hour.

Figures

By David Lawrence

Blough Disagrees With Union View

In the current period of inflation, organized labor has been arguing that corporate profits are high and wages should be increased to meet the rising cost of living.

But there is a dispute about the facts and the meaning that should be attributed to them

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of United States Steel Corp., is indignant because of what he terms a misuse of figures not only by George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, but by the Johnson administration. Mr. Blough has just said in a speech before the New York University School of Commerce:

"At a time when the government is urging responsible leaders of labor to exercise restraint in enforcing their wage demands, it is difficult for me to understand why, during the past few months, administration leaders — including the President and members of his cabinet — have publicized so widely the fact that since 1960 total corporate profits have risen much more rapidly, in terms of percentages, than have wages.

"Encouraged by the publicity accorded to these official statements, Mr. George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, has given them further currency in support of his contention that this is a 'profit inflation — pure and simple'. And doubtless most union members and many members of the public have thus been led to believe that labor has been getting the short end of the stick and is entitled to the large pay increases it has been demanding. Now the facts upon which these statements have been based are that during the five years from 1960 to 1965, aggregate corporate profits have risen 67 per cent, while total employe compensation has increased only 34 per cent — or merely half as fast."

MR. BLOUGH, who has available a staff of veteran economists, points out that to use percentage alone is misleading when they are applied to two bases which are of different sizes.

He declares the actual figures show that during the five-year period from 1960 to 1965 total corporate profits rose by $18 billion, while total compensation of employes went up by $99 billion or 5½ times as much as profits.

Mr. Blough says 1960 was "a year of recession" and comparisons should be made so that "good years are likened to good years, and poor ones to poor ones."

Thus, for instance, in the "good year" of 1950 and the "good year" of 1955, total corporate profits rose by $2 billion, while total employe compensation increased $70 billion — 35 times as much.

In the next five-year period, comparing the "good year" of 1955 with the "recession year" of 1960, it is found that corporate profits declined by $300 million and employe compensation still increased by $70 billion.

Taking a look at the entire 15-year period and comparing "prosperous 1950" with "prosperous 1965," Mr. Blough points out that corporate profits grew by $19.5 billion, while employe compensation rose by $238 billion — or more than 12 times as much.

Even using only percentages, the figures show that over this particular 15-year period, corporate profits rose 79 per cent, while employee compensation increased 154 per cent.

THE HEAD of the steel corporation emphasizes, moreover, that a more realistic use of percentages would be to compare the share of nationel income that went to labor and to corporations, respectively.

By applying the percentages each year to exactly the same base on both sides, it is apparent that in 1950 corporate profits were 10.3 per cent of the national income, while in 1965 the figure had dropped to 8 per cent.

The share of the national income that is included in employe compensation in 1950 was 64.1 per cent, and by 1965 it had risen to 70.3 per cent.

As for the cost of living, these statistics show that since 1950 it has gone up 37 per cent, but hourly earnings in the same period have climbed 82 per cent.

Mr. Blough comments that, in terms of actual purchasing power, the earnings of the worker have therefore risen by 33 per cent. He adds: "Someone in high office may have pointed out that salient fact, but if so it has escaped my attention, and certainly it has not been generally publicized."

Everyone should saw wood, or the equivalent. It is good for the soul.

Word has come to me in a roundabout way that lifting the Friday meat ban for Catholics on Friday could result in an increase in goiter ailments, because ocean seafoods are rich in iodine, which helps keep goiters normal. You can take it from there.

News of the 98th birthday in Uvalde, Tex., of John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, former speaker of the House and two-term vice president, brought to mind what once was said about him by John Llewellyn Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, during one of Lewis's many run-ins with the government. Lewis called Garner "A whisky-drinking, poker-playing evil old man."

Lewis now is 86.

Testimonial Fetes Beclouded

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — Not all those who hold out their hands to charities are poor. Some of those hands are manicured and mightily muscled.

Yet they are eagerly grasped by professional fund raisers who lend the good name of many a great charity to those eager to buy virtue—through some of these are under federal indictment, government investigation or are associates or champions of men convicted by our highest courts.

Victor Riesel

From the golden handshake of these fund raisers and shady characters comes money for one side and prestige for the other. It all makes most difficult the lives of Justice Department officials who find some famed charities running testimonials for notorious characters under investigation.

It makes life difficult for honest labor leaders who find themselves besieged in the name of sweet charity to buy millions of dollars worth of tickets a year across the land — for testimonials honoring those tangling with the government.

THERE WAS A DINNER Tuesday night, Nov. 15, in the "Ironbound" section of Newark, N. J., honoring a labor leader as their Citizen of the Year. It had all the trimmings.

The testimonial was to a labor leader. The sponsor was the Red Shield Boys Club. The city's mayor and fire chief were there, along with 900 others.

The locale was right. The "Ironbound" section is made up of a network of poverty rows inside a criss-crossing of railroad tracks.

But the honored man of the year was Peter Weber. He is under federal indictment. He has been accused by the authorities of violating the Taft-Hartley law by accepting five expensive cars, credit cards and fuel for his 52-foot yacht.

He is head of the Operating Engineers Local 825, itself under investigation by the Labor Department for running an election the secretary of labor believes to be illegal.

Mr. Weber, who earlier this year told the President's Council of Economic Advisers to go to hell, also had with him an old friend and associate, Joey Fay, once all-powerful leader of this all-powerful union. He was sent to prison for extortion.

THERE WERE OTHER celebrities. But at least U.S. Sen. Clifford Case, whom the Operating Engineers helped to elect, had the good taste to send a telegram of regrets.

But this grand turnout for this staunch "Ironbound" citizen was on a high level compared with the banquet run in New York City by one of California's great charitable institutions. I will not name it here for I would not put shame in the hearts of those who reach for it with hands seeking health and succor.

Last March this institution ran a banquet at a big hotel which specializes in setting up huge daises. That night the man honored was a teamster official who has been under steady federal investigation for years.

His name runs across the pages of Sen. McClellan's racket-busting committee. (I do not refer to Jim Hoffa.) The honored man is known to be a friend of some of the shady world's most notorious characters.

Also on the dais sat the Teamsters' Tony Provenzano — then on his way to prison to serve a seven-year term for extortion.

ON THE DAIS, too, were some of the finest city, state and federal officials who merely answered the call of charity and came not knowing they would be seated with such noblemen of muscledom. Thus the charity people betrayed the decent ones who turned out to help, though the guests knew it would be one of those long stultifying evenings over leathery food.

The Justice Department tussled with this one and finally passed it by lest it embarrass an honest cause with headquarters nearly 3,000 miles distant.

More recently this same shady character, who "took the Fifth" many times before the McClellan committee, participated in a fund-raising drive for a charity dealing with badly crippled children. The drive raised some $200,000 and a luncheon was held to honor some 40 labor leaders who had given time, energy and dollars. Among them reveling amid the applause was the teamster chap.

Now came the star speaker. In a burst of enthusiasm, this chap, the Carpenters' Nick Santiago Jr., who came out of deserved anonymity for the moment, arose.

HE THEN USED the charitable dais as a platform to urge the AFL-CIO to readmit Jim Hoffa. He was blunt, apparently forgetting that his duty was to thank the yawning assemblage for their contributions," . . . — say it's about time," said he, "for the elder statesmen in the AFL-CIO to re-evaluate their earlier decisions and have the courage to admit they made a mistake a few years ago. . . . It's high time the AFL-CIO asked the Teamsters to rejoin."

The charity's officials dutifully put this out as an official news release. If you wanted further information (I presume about the state of the unions), you could call the lady listed atop the release.

Thus it goes. The handshake may be golden for the moment. But it may lead to lean days because many a contributor — alarmed by the character of his fellow banqueteers — may decide to keep his hands in his pockets.

Blough Disagrees With Union View

In the current period of inflation, organized labor has been arguing that corporate profits are high and wages should be increased to meet the rising cost of living.

But there is a dispute about the facts and the meaning that should be attributed to them.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of United States Steel Corp., is indignant because of what he terms a misuse of figures not only by George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, but by the Johnson administration. Mr. Blough has just said in a speech before the New York University School of Commerce:

"At a time when the government is urging responsible leaders of labor to exercise restraint in enforcing their wage demands, it is difficult for me to understand why, during the past few months, administration leaders — including the President and members of his cabinet — have publicized so widely the fact that since 1960 total corporate profits have risen much more rapidly, in terms of percentages, than have wages.

"Encouraged by the publicity accorded to these official statements, Mr. George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, has given them further currency in support of his contention that this is a 'profit inflation — pure and simple'. And doubtless most union members and many members of the public have thus been led to believe that labor has been getting the short end of the stick and is entitled to the large pay increases it has been demanding. Now the facts upon which these statements have been based are that during the five years from 1960 to 1965, aggregate corporate profits have risen 57 per cent, while total employe compensation has increased only 34 per cent — or merely half as fast."

MR. BLOUGH, who has available a staff of veteran economists, points out that to use percentage alone is misleading when they are applied to two bases which are of different sizes.

He declares the actual figures show that during the five-year period from 1960 to 1965 total corporate profits rose by $18 billion, while total compensation of employes went up by $99 billion or 5½ times as much as profits.

Mr. Blough says 1960 was "a year of recession" and comparisons should be made so that "good years are likened to good years, and poor ones to poor ones."

Thus, for instance, in the "good year" of 1950 and the "good year" of 1955, total corporate profits rose by $2 billion, while total employe compensation increased $70 billion — 35 times as much.

In the next five-year period, comparing the "good year" of 1955 with the "recession year" of 1960, it is found that corporate profits declined by $300 million and employe compensation still increased by $70 billion.

Taking a look at the entire 15-year period and comparing "prosperous 1950" with "prosperous 1965," Mr. Blough points out that corporate profits grew by $19.5 billion, while employe compensation rose by $238 billion — or more than 12 times as much.

Even using only percentages, the figures show that over this particular 15-year period, corporate profits rose 79 per cent, while employee compensation increased 154 per cent.

THE HEAD of the steel corporation emphasizes, moreover, that a more realistic use of percentages would be to compare the share of nationel income that went to labor and to corporations, respectively.

By applying the percentages each year to exactly the same base on both sides, it is apparent that in 1950 corporate profits were 10.3 per cent of the national income, while in 1965 the figure had dropped to 8 per cent.

The share of the national income that is included in employe compensation in 1950 was 64.1 per cent, and by 1965 it had risen to 70.3 per cent.

As for the cost of living, these statistics show that since 1950 it has gone up 37 per cent, but hourly earnings in the same period have climbed 82 per cent.

Mr. Blough comments that, in terms of actual purchasing power, the earnings of the worker have therefore risen by 33 per cent. He adds: "Someone in high office may have pointed out that salient fact, but if so it has escaped my attention, and certainly it has not been generally publicized."

3,200 Nurses Give Notices Of Walkout In Wage Dispute

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — About one-third of the more than 3,200 nurses employed at 21 Minneapolis-St. Paul hospitals have given one-month resignation notices in a wage dispute.

The resignations are part of strategy by members of the Minnesota Nurses Association to win pay increases from the Twin City Hospital Association, which represents the 21 hospitals.

State law prohibits the nurses from striking.

At a mass meeting Tuesday, the nurses voted 599-148, with several hundred abstentions, to submit resignations Friday, to become effective in a month. The MNA said the action would be up to individual nurses.

Spokesmen for some hospital nursing groups indicated that weekend meetings would be held before resignations were submitted.

About 1,070 of the 3,216 nurses at the 21 hospitals had given their resignations by Friday night.

The nurses voted to provide essential patient care on a voluntary basis after the effective resignation date.

The nurses' contract runs until next May 31, but the nurses asked for a pay increase now because of inflation and nurses' wage increases at other hospitals.

MNA is asking for a starting salary of $541 a month, with $591 for assistant head nurses and $641 for head nurses. Salaries were raised by the hospital association on Nov. 15 to $475, $505 and $545 respectively.

Johnson

lican House Leader Gerald R. Ford were "now generally happy with the effort the President is making to cut nonessential spending." Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen replied:

"Any effort in that direction, and particularly when it is substantial, ought to make everybody who embraces a reasonable or moderate or conservative view quite happy. Moving in that direction certainly does make us happy. It will have a definite impact on the inflationary picture that obtains to some extent in the country."

Ford, one of Johnson's sharpest congressional critics, said "it seems to me we are moving exactly in the right direction."

Johnson, since assuming the presidency, has met many times with the bipartisan leadership. But Friday's conference was the first such meeting at the LBJ Ranch.

The presidential news session was so hurriedly arranged that newsmen had to be taken to the ranch by helicopters from Austin, 65 miles to the west. Johnson, who said he is feeling fine following his Nov. 16 operations for a throat polyp and repair of an incisional hernia, wore a light tan sports outfit with a big presidential seal on it.

Johnson began by telling newsmen the discussions with the leaders included the military and diplomatic situations in Viet Nam, the economic situation and program cutbacks.

Johnson said Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, with whom he also conferred Friday will meet with Cabinet members early next week to make further recommendations for cutting back government programs. He said he would take prompt action on them.

Asked his appraisal of the military situation, Johnson said much of the latest report on that is classified.

But he added: "The summary is that the military operations continue to be successful. Our forces maintain the initiative. Our losses are light."

The President gave himself considerable latitude when asked how much extra money will be requested to meet war costs between next January and July 1. He said the sum would be between $5 billion and $15 billion.

Johnson answered with one word, "Yes," when asked whether the possibility of an income tax increase was discussed.

Questioned further, he said the tax discussion was purely incidental, and that he didn't believe the leaders expressed their views.

"There will be a lot of discussion about it," Johnson commented. "But there won't be any decision until the facts are in and we have the figures upon which decisions can be based. They can't be made in November."

Couple Given Church Party

A surprise party marking the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Scharf was held at the Madison Trinity Church of West Point Thursday night after the Thanksgiving eve service.

Seventy - eight attended the event in the social room. Mr. Scharf is pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Scharf were married Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 20, 1941, at the manse of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church by the Rev. Norman R. Somerville. Mrs. Scharf is the former Evelyn Buchanan of East Liverpool.

Refreshments were served from a central table covered in white and trimmed in silver and pale green. Two large sheet cakes decorated with white crystal sugar bells, silver leaves and pink and white roses formed the centerpiece, with silver candles on each side. A sunburst effect of white streamers with silver numerals "25" and white bells was over the central table. Seven other tables were covered in white and decorated with silver seals.

A pair of sterling silver bud vases and a matching crystal and silver bowl were presented the Scharfs.

The Scharfs have a son and daughter, David and Kathryn Ann, and two foster children, Darlene and Charles. David is a medical technologist with the Salem City Hospital Association and is married to the former Lois Shaw of Lisbon. Kathryn Ann, 8, is a third-grade student at the Calcutta School. Darlene is five and Charles is two.

Israel Stung By Rebuke Of U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The stinging rebuke and threat of punishment that the Security Council has leveled against Israel reflects U.N. concern over the impact border clashes might have on the explosive situation in Jordan.

Diplomats noted that the council reacted to Israel's reprisal raids against three Jordanian villages Nov. 13 with the toughest resolution it has passed against that state in 15 years.

By a vote of 14-0 Friday the council issued a threat of economic and military penalties against Israel for the first time since it began dealing with the Middle East border quarrels.

Israel was plainly stung by the wording of the draft. Israeli Ambassador Michael Comay told the council that the basic cause of Arab-Israeli tension lies "in Arab belligerence and military threat against Israel."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said he voted for Friday's condemnation of Israel because it reflected U.S. policy based on respect for the territorial integrity of all Middle East nations.

Diplomats saw this as a thinly veiled U.S. warning to such Arab leaders as President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic not to take advantage of unrest being fomented by Palestine Arab forces against the throne of Jordan's King Hussein.

Crucible Steel Board To Act

The board of directors of the Crucible Steel Co. is expected to act shortly on two vacancies created by the resignations of J. R. Clumeck and Robert Morris earlier this week.

Clumeck, vice chairman of the Hunt Food & Industries finance committee, and Morris, president of the Wheeling Steel Corp., joined Crucible in January with Norton Simon and Raymond Rich when Hunt was invited to take a stock interest in Crucible as the result of a proxy fight.

The resignations Tuesday followed closely on the heels of Simon's resignation from his board post with Wheeling Steel, seen by some finance experts as a move clearing the way for the eventual merger of Crucible and Wheeling.

Crucible and a group of dissident stockholders, headed by Morris J. Rubin of Chicago, are awaiting the outcome of an Illinois Supreme Court action related to the holding of the annual stockholders' meeting, delayed since last spring.

Joel H. Hunter, Crucible president, said the Crucible board is expected to take action soon on nominees under consideration for the two vacant seats.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION
How Important Is The Bible? (Part IV)

In the last few articles we have been pointing out the fact that the Bible is of great importance to us. It is the only book that God has given to tell of our origin, of the advent of sin and of God's remedy. It also is important because it is the book that tells us about the kind of worship that God will accept. In today's article we would like to notice the greatness of the Bible in that it tells us about the church that Christ built.

It is very evident to all in the world that there is a divided state in religion. Our cities are full of different churches. Even our own country reports about 300 different churches. Each of us is then faced with this question. Is it right (acceptable with God) for all of these churches to exist? Was this what God planned? The answer is found by looking at a few passages in the Bible. Notice first this promise of Christ in Mt. 16:18. ". . . . and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." In this statement Jesus promised to build "his" church. Notice that the word "church" is in the singular. This is also true of the term "it". The use of these words in the singular makes it clear that the Lord only built one church. He did not even promise to build two.

Notice also this statement found in Acts 2:47. "Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." This statement says that the Lord added people to one church. If some 300 churches today meet the approval of God why does not the Bible teach that the Lord will add some people to all the different churches? The ansyer can be seen when we realize that the Lord only built one church. He would only add people to his church.

Now this question naturally follows. If there are 300 different churches and the Lord does not approve of this divided state, how can I know which one the Lord built? I want to be a member of the church that the Lord built. Don't you?

Here is the place that we are able to see just how important the Bible is. The Bible tells us about the church Jesus built. I can take the Bible and read of the description of His church and then make comparison to the different churches of the world. In this way I will be able to know for certain that I am a member of the Lord's church. It is not a matter of guess work.

Have you taken the time to make a comparison? Are you sure that you are a member of the church that was built by the Lord. Dear Friend, you cannot afford to take a chance with your soul.

lican House Leader Gerald R. Ford were "now generally happy with the effort the President is making to cut nonessential spending." Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen replied:

"Any effort in that direction, and particularly when it is substantial, ought to make everybody who embraces a reasonable or moderate or conservative view quite happy. Moving in that direction certainly does make us happy. It will have a definite impact on the inflationary picture that obtains to some extent in the country."

Ford, one of Johnson's sharpest congressional critics, said "it seems to me we are moving exactly in the right direction."

Johnson, since assuming the presidency, has met many times with the bipartisan leadership. But Friday's conference was the first such meeting at the LBJ Ranch.

The presidential news session was so hurriedly arranged that newsmen had to be taken to the ranch by helicopters from Austin, 65 miles to the west. Johnson, who said he is feeling fine following his Nov. 16 operations for a throat polyp and repair of an incisional hernia, wore a light tan sports outfit with a big presidential seal on it.

Johnson began by telling newsmen the discussions with the leaders included the military and diplomatic situations in Viet Nam, the economic situation and program cutbacks.

Johnson said Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, with whom he also conferred Friday will meet with Cabinet members early next week to make further recommendations for cutting back government programs. He said he would take prompt action on them.

Asked his appraisal of the military situation, Johnson said much of the latest report on that is classified.

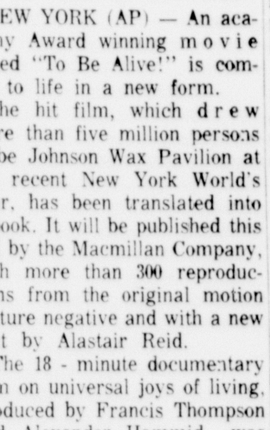

But he added: "The summary is that the military operations continue to be successful. Our forces maintain the initiative. Our losses are light."

The President gave himself considerable latitude when asked how much extra money will be requested to meet war costs between next January and July 1. He said the sum would be between $5 billion and $15 billion.

Johnson answered with one word, "Yes," when asked whether the possibility of an income tax increase was discussed.

Questioned further, he said the tax discussion was purely incidental, and that he didn't believe the leaders expressed their views.

"There will be a lot of discussion about it," Johnson commented. "But there won't be any decision until the facts are in and we have the figures upon which decisions can be based. They can't be made in November."

Couple Given Church Party

A surprise party marking the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Scharf was held at the Madison Trinity Church of West Point Thursday night after the Thanksgiving eve service.

Seventy - eight attended the event in the social room. Mr. Scharf is pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Scharf were married Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 20, 1941, at the manse of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church by the Rev. Norman R. Somerville. Mrs. Scharf is the former Evelyn Buchanan of East Liverpool.

Refreshments were served from a central table covered in white and trimmed in silver and pale green. Two large sheet cakes decorated with white crystal sugar bells, silver leaves and pink and white roses formed the centerpiece, with silver candles on each side. A sunburst effect of white streamers with silver numerals "25" and white bells was over the central table. Seven other tables were covered in white and decorated with silver seals.

A pair of sterling silver bud vases and a matching crystal and silver bowl were presented the Scharfs.

The Scharfs have a son and daughter, David and Kathryn Ann, and two foster children, Darlene and Charles. David is a medical technologist with the Salem City Hospital Association and is married to the former Lois Shaw of Lisbon. Kathryn Ann, 8, is a third-grade student at the Calcutta School. Darlene is five and Charles is two.

Israel Stung By Rebuke Of U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The stinging rebuke and threat of punishment that the Security Council has leveled against Israel reflects U.N. concern over the impact border clashes might have on the explosive situation in Jordan.

Diplomats noted that the council reacted to Israel's reprisal raids against three Jordanian villages Nov. 13 with the toughest resolution it has passed against that state in 15 years.

By a vote of 14-0 Friday the council issued a threat of economic and military penalties against Israel for the first time since it began dealing with the Middle East border quarrels.

Israel was plainly stung by the wording of the draft. Israeli Ambassador Michael Comay told the council that the basic cause of Arab-Israeli tension lies "in Arab belligerence and military threat against Israel."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said he voted for Friday's condemnation of Israel because it reflected U.S. policy based on respect for the territorial integrity of all Middle East nations.

Diplomats saw this as a thinly veiled U.S. warning to such Arab leaders as President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic not to take advantage of unrest being fomented by Palestine Arab forces against the throne of Jordan's King Hussein.

Juneau, Ketchikan, Anchorage and Fairbanks are the four largest cities of Alaska.

Crucible Steel Board To Act

The board of directors of the Crucible Steel Co. is expected to act shortly on two vacancies created by the resignations of J. R. Clumeck and Robert Morris earlier this week.

Clumeck, vice chairman of the Hunt Food & Industries finance committee, and Morris, president of the Wheeling Steel Corp., joined Crucible in January with Norton Simon and Raymond Rich when Hunt was invited to take a stock interest in Crucible as the result of a proxy fight.

The resignations Tuesday followed closely on the heels of Simon's resignation from his board post with Wheeling Steel, seen by some finance experts as a move clearing the way for the eventual merger of Crucible and Wheeling.

Crucible and a group of dissident stockholders, headed by Morris J. Rubin of Chicago, are awaiting the outcome of an Illinois Supreme Court action related to the holding of the annual stockholders' meeting, delayed since last spring.

Joel H. Hunter, Crucible president, said the Crucible board is expected to take action soon on nominees under consideration for the two vacant seats.

The U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which turns out all American paper currency, began operations in 1862.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION
How Important Is The Bible? (Part IV)

In the last few articles we have been pointing out the fact that the Bible is of great importance to us. It is the only book that God has given to tell of our origin, of the advent of sin and of God's remedy. It also is important because it is the book that tells us about the kind of worship that God will accept. In today's article we would like to notice the greatness of the Bible in that it tells us about the church that Christ built.

It is very evident to all in the world that there is a divided state in religion. Our cities are full of different churches. Even our own country reports about 300 different churches. Each of us is then faced with this question. Is it right (acceptable with God) for all of these churches to exist? Was this what God planned? The answer is found by looking at a few passages in the Bible. Notice first this promise of Christ in Mt. 16:18. ". . . . and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." In this statement Jesus promised to build "his" church. Notice that the word "church" is in the singular. This is also true of the term "it". The use of these words in the singular makes it clear that the Lord only built one church. He did not even promise to build two.

Notice also this statement found in Acts 2:47. "Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." This statement says that the Lord added people to one church. If some 300 churches today meet the approval of God why does not the Bible teach that the Lord will add some people to all the different churches? The ansyer can be seen when we realize that the Lord only built one church. He would only add people to his church.

Now this question naturally follows. If there are 300 different churches and the Lord does not approve of this divided state, how can I know which one the Lord built? I want to be a member of the church that the Lord built. Don't you?

Here is the place that we are able to see just how important the Bible is. The Bible tells us about the church Jesus built. I can take the Bible and read of the description of His church and then make comparison to the different churches of the world. In this way I will be able to know for certain that I am a member of the Lord's church. It is not a matter of guess work.

Have you taken the time to make a comparison? Are you sure that you are a member of the church that was built by the Lord. Dear Friend, you cannot afford to take a chance with your soul.

One night, while traveling, we stopped at a motel. In the stillness of the room, I heard my young son reading to his younger brother. I listened, surprised, for he was reading the motel's Bible. He stumbled over some of the words, but still there was a clarity to their meaning as he pronounced them. Passages, spoken in his childish voice, had a certain simplicity.

Children approach things directly, with open minds and hearts. In this fashion, my young sons were approaching the Bible. In this fashion, so should many of us return to it again. Bring the Bible back into your life. You will find a guiding light to help you in the church of your choice.

One night, while traveling, we stopped at a motel. In the stillness of the room, I heard my young son reading to his younger brother. I listened, surprised, for he was reading the motel's Bible. He stumbled over some of the words, but still there was a clarity to their meaning as he pronounced them. Passages, spoken in his childish voice, had a certain simplicity.

Children approach things directly, with open minds and hearts. In this fashion, my young sons were approaching the Bible. In this fashion, so should many of us return to it again. Bring the Bible back into your life. You will find a guiding light to help you in the church of your choice.

2 Visiting Volunteers Seek To Help Young People On Local Level With Special Incentive Programs

East Liverpool, Ohio Saturday, Nov. 26, 1966—Page 8

INVITATIONS TO join VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America) usually are careful to warn those interested that the job includes "low pay and the conditions of your labor often will be difficult."

That's how President Johnson described the operation to the first 20 VISTA Volunteers late in 1964.

The only real qualifications for becoming a VISTA are that you be over 18 and a citizen or permanent resident of the United States. Married volunteers are taken if both husband and wife apply and are accepted.

But the point the brochures, the poignant television commercials and appearances of Paul Newman and Tony Randall posing earnestly with volunteers is all too obvious to any VISTA with a few weeks experience: their job is in each case so unique that defining it becomes unfair.

Example: Ruthann Sutton and Sue Sperry. Present assignment: East Liverpool and Wellsville, Ohio.

THE GIRLS are trying to organize clubs for children in the East End under the sponsorship of 4-H. The Cooperative Extension Service of Columbiana County is the host agency for the two VISTA girls—the reason they are here and also the reason the clubs are coming under the auspices of 4-H.

To many people 4-H conjures up the thought of farm children wending their way along rural roads to the friendly clubhouse where they would learn animal husbandry and pie making in order to take a crack at blue ribbons at the next county fair.

But like everything else, 4-H has kept abreast of urbanization and now attracts city kids also. Modified clubs are what the girls hope to launch.

Their biggest problem to date has been locating men to act as adult advisers. They have eight women interested in helping with the clubs, but alas, no men. (Please note: Jaycees, Lions, Kiwanians, Rotarians and Ruritans.)

The groups would meet from two to four times a month in, at first, the East End. There would be projects for the youngsters to discuss and work on. But more important, say the girls, there would be "stimulation."

SUE AND RUTHANN employ that word often to explain what they are trying to accomplish. Both feel they must get the children "out of the background," and motivate them to pursue something concrete.

Every Saturday the girls hold a cooking and sewing class for some 10-12 year old girls who come to East Junior High School in the morning for a reading class. The boys meet with county agricultural agent Joe Pittman for a session of woodworking.

Through the schools the girls learned who was interested in joining the groups. About 100 students—have indicated willingness to enter the clubs and, pending the arrival of the adult leaders, the clubs should be starting soon.

Cooking, sewing and woodworking, though, are not the real reasons for the creation of the clubs. "We want to see a kid begin relationship with others," Sue said.

"Getting them out of the house and acquainting them with responsibility is what's important," adds Ruthann.

Who are these two visitors who say they want to act as a "catalyst," who say they hope the community will become more aware of its problems and see what is lacking?

Well, just like the posters say, they're over eighteen, citizens, unmarried and have no dependents. Right there, however, stops the common denominator between them and other VISTAs.

Ruthann is from Bluffton, Ind., 25 miles from Ft. Wayne (pop. 161,776) and Sue comes from Milwaukee, the home of 741,324 people. Now they live together in East Liverpool, Ohio, with a well-known population of 22,300.

THEY ARE NOT federal "do-gooders" here to visit you if there are holes in your shoes or leaks in your roof. They are not investigators from Uncle Sam who snoop around with clip boards making sure no one's doing what they shouldn't. Nor are they smart-aleck college girls who say "Yes, yes, you can tell us your problems—we are here to help you."

What describes them better is that they are two rather average young women who last spring became just a little more concerned and a little less apathetic than your everyday college sophomore.

They joined VISTA.

Sue was enrolled at Marquette University in Milwaukee, "fed up with the theories of sociology." She decided that this field of study dealt with more than sub-cultures, in-groups and normative structures. It meant people, their problems, griefs, adventures and joys. A recruiting team visited her campus and Sue bought their story.

Ruthann, then a student at the Richmond Professional Institute, saw one of those impressive television commercials with the strange music, the hushed voice and the impassioned photography and decided to write VISTA, Washington, D.C., 20506, for the true story. She got back some pamphlets and an application.

Several months later the two girls met each other in a training center in Michigan's upper peninsula.

"Give 'em hell!" their instructors told them. "Agitate. Start things moving."

The girls listened, worked, stayed with impoverished Finn families and learned. Ruthann gritted her way through sauna baths with the younger children and sweated out with them broiling cleanliness.

THE GIRLS are often chided because of VISTA's admitted orientation toward hygiene. "Oh you're the ones that came here to each us how to brush our teeth," go the remarks.

Yes, they'll teach a kid how to brush his teeth, or tie a shoe, bake a cake, clean his room, make a friend or save a dollar.

They're a little too feminine to really give anyone hell and they've also found out that agitation is not the answer. Suggestion is. As the first VISTAs in this area the roommates will have to pave the way for any possible future delegations. "We want just to place a foot in the door," they explain.

Working with Bob Lewis, the county's 4-H adviser, and Ann Overturf, the home economist, the girls have visited area groups to tell their stories. They attend workshops, conferences and study sessions.

Both of them have been to East Junior, Horace Mann, Garfield and Neville Schools. Foot-aching miles have been trudged to visit East End homes because the girls just recently were awarded their seven-year old government car which runs only sometimes.

"We are in a structured/unstructured situation," the girls say. They are involved with responsibilities which rest mainly with them alone, and yet must try to create clubs under 4-H rules. In doing this they are particularly careful not to invade the sovereignty of other social service agencies.

FOR THIS THEY receive a "living and subsistance" allowance which hovers somewhere around the amount most people have deducted from their paycheck for taxes each month.

Their apartment was furnished by newly-made friends who donated enough to permit the girls to use their sparse funds to buy a repossessed record player. They listen to jazz and Bach and the theme from Dr. Zhivago while they worry.

They worry quite a bit, too. They say they're feeling their way and both of them claim not to be accomplished organizers.

They fret about whether they're "stepping on anyone's toes," and if the right words are chosen to explain who they want to help.

But the doubts are all constructive because it prompts constant re-evaluation and these girls will never become bureaucrats.

Thanksgiving was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perkins of Ohio Ave. This was the girls' first Thanksgiving away from home and Perkins, a printer at The Review, had them over one day last week so no one would have to waste dinner time getting acquainted.

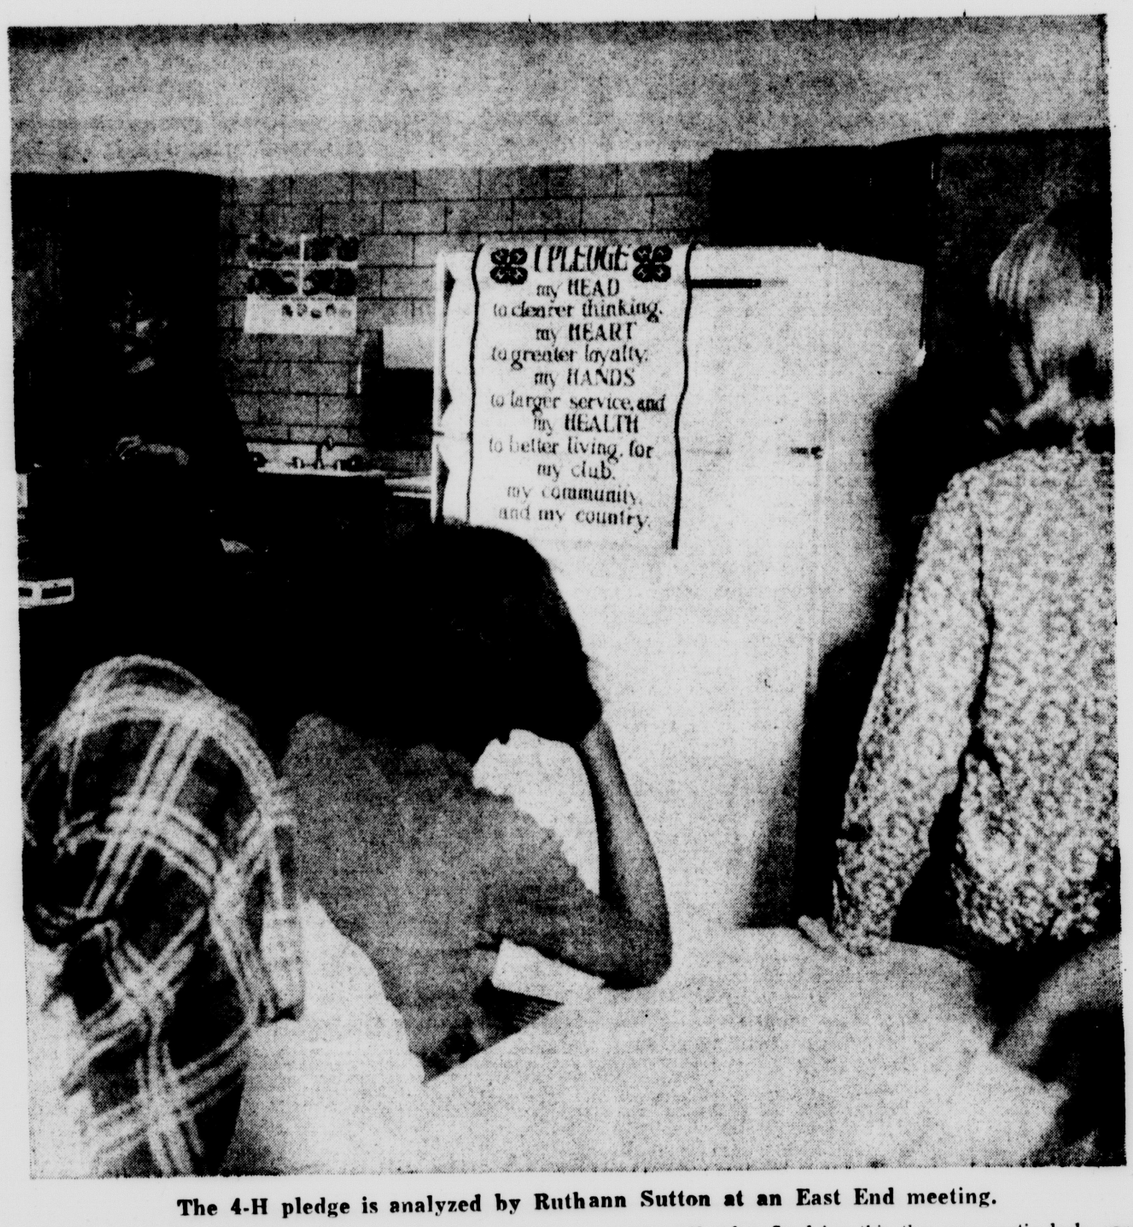

Sue, the blonde, and Ruthann, the redhead, plan on continuing school after their year-long tour of duty is up. The indefatigable optimism they sustain is attributed by them to the many friendly people they have come across in Columbiana County.

In their downtown apartment, jammed in a book case made from donated bricks and boards, are two scrapbooks. Both are filled with the postcards, letters, clippings and airline ticket envelopes amassed since the summer. In Ruth's book, there is a poem, lifted, she says, from a bulletin board in Michigan:

I shall pass through this world but once,
Any good, therefore, that I can do
Or any kindness I can do
To any human being—
Let me do this now
Let me not defer or neglect
For I shall not pass this way again.

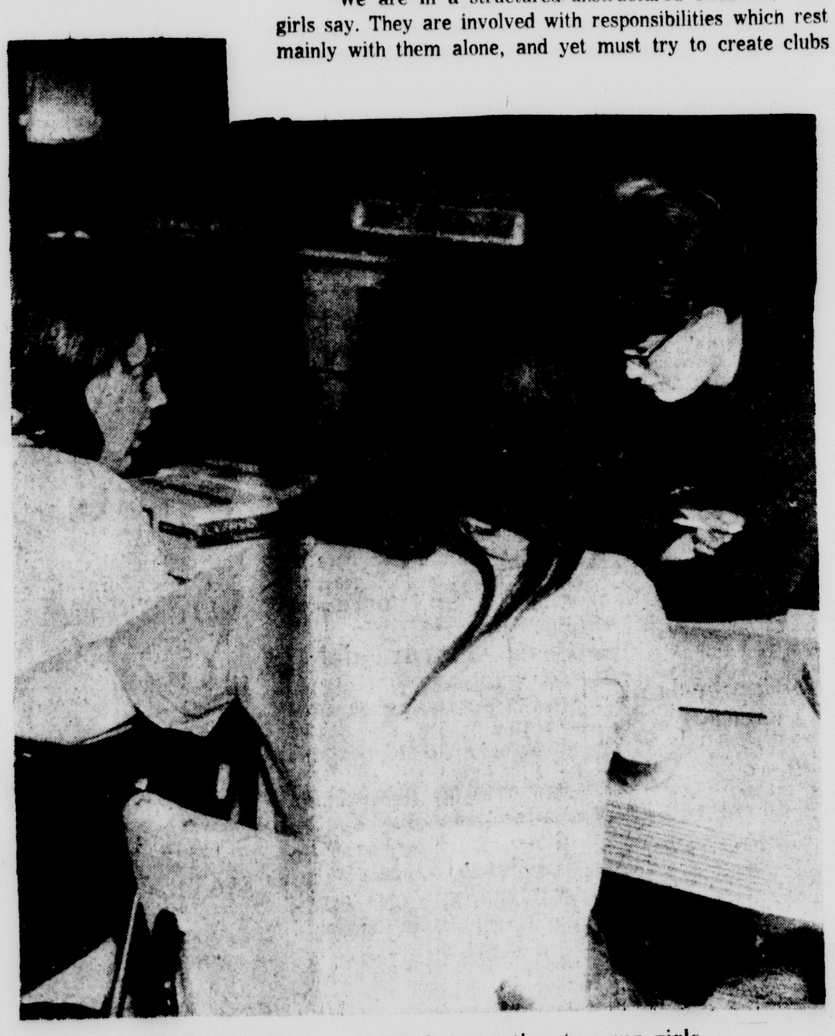

VISTA Girl Sue Sperry presents a demonstration for an interested group.

The 4-H pledge is analyzed by Ruthann Sutton at an East End meeting.

Home economics and handicraft are part of the VISTA program.

Ruthann offers helpful suggestion to some girls.

THERE IS A bumper crop of pheasants in Columbiana County, but the big question in the minds of many hunters is "Where are all the rabbits?"

Most nimrods report they have never enjoyed such good bird hunting before. Almost everyone you talk to has at least seen pheasants while a great majority have shot at least one.

Ralph Drake, county game protector says the hunters have had extra good success on birds on

We put up six rabbits, a pheasant and a covey of quail. I didn't get a rabbit, but the others got one each. You can't shoot quail unless you are on state-owned land or land that has been signed as a cooperative hunting area.

The cover was very heavy and the rabbits were sitting tight. You almost had to kick one in the tail before he would start running. In the thick weeds you could watch them attempt to sneak out, crawling along the ground slowly. Once they hit the open areas, then they put on the steam.

MANY HUNTERS are puzzled over the lack of rabbits. Pre-season checks indicated there was a very heavy population, but so far they haven't showed up in game bags.

I feel there are plenty, at least from what I have seen, but there are many factors which could contribute to hunters not getting their limit.

The weed cover is heavy. The weather has not been exactly favorable for good bunny hunting. This is the first part of the season and men and dogs are not completely conditioned to hunting them out.

Pass up a shot if you are not sure. There are several days of the season left and it would be much better to miss a shot than have it on your conscience that you shot someone, even accidentally.

BACK TO RABBITS and a bunny problem. One of the questions sometimes asked by novice hunters is how to get rid of the fleas on the carcass.

Most cottontails have fleas in the early part of the season. They diminish considerably after a hard cold spell.

If you pick up the dead rabbit immediately after it has been shot, the fleas will leave the carcass and get onto you.

The best thing to do is clean the rabbit, skin it and then put the carcass into a plastic bag.

This takes time, I don't do it. My method is to field dress the rabbit—remove the entrails—and then leave it on the ground or hang it in a tree until the carcass starts to cool.

As soon as the meat temperature starts to drop, the fleas leave the rabbit by themselves.

NOW FOR THE tale about a cottontail that went "moo."

Lige most hunters, and fishermen, I occasionally buy a piece of equipment or gimmick, not so much because I think it will actually work, but because . . . well, because I am gullible.

So after reading the advertisement, I purchase a genuine "rabbit flusher." It looks just like a crow call. It cost $2.

The advertisement said blow through the wooden end and produce a cry as near as possible to a baby crying plaintively. Make five long crying calls and the rabbits will jump all over the place.

I had it with me Saturday and by buddies soon insisted I give it a try.Do you have any idea how silly you can feel standing in the middle of a field, blowing a call to make a sound like a baby crying?

I tried it several times, to no avail. I put the call away, but kept thinking about it.

Later, while in an open field, I decided to try again, thinking if a rabbit did leave his setting place, he could easily be seen.

Five long wailing cries. Then from far way came the answering call of a cow. Or at least I think it was a cow. My buddies suggested I put away the flusher or I might have a lovesick bull following me around.

I'll probably try it again. So if you are hunting somewhere and hear a crazy sound, don't come shooting because I am peaceful.

EIGHT DEER HAVE been killed on the highways in Columbiana County recently. All were killed within a two week period and Drake says he was called every other night for a while.

All this indicates the deer population is growing, but it also points up the fact drivers should use a little more caution when driving through rural areas where deer live.

This is mating season and deer are on the move. Slow down a little at night and if you see one cross the road in front of your car, be prepared for usually another will follow.

OHIO'S FIVE day deer season opens Monday. Several reports of deer in Columbiana County have come across my desk.

The season is already in in West Virginia.

Waldo Adkins of 87 Fairview St., Chester, shot an unusual pinto deer Monday in Pendleton County. It's coat is brown and white splotches. One horn was broken off, but the other side had two points.

Other members of the party who shot deer were Albert Ulbright of Lawrenceville, Andy Haught of Chester and Wise Adkins of Huntington, W. Va.

TWO OHIOVILLE men—Andy Johnson and Johnny Reed—were up in Warren, Pa., Friday hunting for turkey, having taken two black bear earlier this week in Cameron County, Pa.

For Andy it was his second bear in two years, and for Johnny—his nephew—it was a third bear. They were the only ones in a party of five to get bear.

Both are looking forward to deer season.

You And The Law

Most of us know and dislike the driver who approaches us at night with his bright lights on and refuses to dim them, even when we dim ours.

All too often, though, we only curse him and continue driving as if nothing were wrong. When we are blinded by the lights of an oncoming vehicle, it is often impossible to see past the point in the road where the lights are, so as we get closer, we can see less and less.

WHAT FEW people realize is that any time we overdrive our vision, we are breaking the law, no matter what the speed limit. A driver should at all times be able to stop within the limits of his vision. The person who fails to dim his lights is breaking the law and can be arrested.

If a driver collides with an object, another vehicle or a pedestrian, it is generally no excuse to say that he was blinded by bright lights, if he made no attempt to slow down or stop. The fact that he really couldn't see doesn't matter if he was traveling too fast to stop within the limits of his vision.

Aside from the danger to himself, from hitting obstructions in the road, if a driver continues on blindly, it is possible for him to strike a parked or stalled vehicle, even if its lights are on. If a serious accident results, it is entirely possible that he will have to pay damages for negligence, even though his blindness was caused by someone else.

Ohio Car Insurance Rates To Be Increased Nov. 30

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Automobile insurance rates will be increased for Ohioans effective Nov. 30, ranging from an 11.5 per cent boost in average comprehensive coverage to an average 13.5 per cent increase in liability coverage.

The announcement came from the National Automobile Underwriters Association and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, insurance rating organizations. The insurance representatives filed the adjusted rates with the Ohio Department of Insurance.

The Ohio Department of Insurance said Friday the association and bureau filed the adjustments in behalf of their member companies. A spokesman of the department added that the adjustments will be reviewed by the department, and hearings called if they fail to meet statutory requirements of adequacy, non - excessiveness and non-discrimination.

The association said the increased frequency and cost of insurance accidents in Ohio brings about the necessity for these adjustments.

The statewide average for comprehensive and collision insurance on private passage cars will be 11.5 per cent more. Liability coverage for these cars will average 13.5 per cent additional for basic limits.

The announcement said the 10 per cent discount for compact cars instituted several years ago will be discontinued. Insurance officials said it had been hoped that the smaller cars would incur lower claim costs, but that this has not proven to be the case.

The effect of the revised premiums of the individual driver depends upon where he lives; his driving record; whether he has youthful drivers in his household and their age, sex, and marital status, and whether they have driver education; the amounts of insurance carried, and other factors.

The new rates will not affect outstanding policies but will apply to them when they are renewed.

For motorists having no chargeable accidents over the past three years, with no youthful drivers in the household, and using a standard size car, for pleasure purposes only, the increase in basic liability insurance rates will range from $1 to $12 depending upon the locality in which he lives.

Under the same circumstances, adjustments in the premiums for comprehensive coverage for a medium price car will vary from minus $1 to an increase of $3. Premiums for the same car for collision insurance with $100 deductible, the most common form, will not be changed in some areas, but will be raised up to $6 in others.

The insurance representatives claimed Ohio's auto insurance premiums continue to be relatively lower than many other states. The national average for basic coverage is $76.52 while Ohio's statewide average, prior to this adjustment, was $69.80.

Ohio's over-all traffic accident record continues an upward trend, the insurance association declared. In 1965 property damage alone was estimated at $81 million against $75.5 million in 1964.

Also increased are premiums for commercial vehicles. Average statewide rates will be up 9.3 per cent for liability and 7.6 per cent for comprehensive and collision insurance.

Seek Pay Under Crop Program

Farmers Eye Democratic Plan To Present Request

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — About 300 farmers, many of whom have been camped out for more than a week while waiting to apply for federal funds, meet again today to try to work out what one calls a "democratic procedure" in presenting their applications.

The Roosevelt County farmers are at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office at Portales in eastern New Mexico in hopes of receiving payment for taking their cropland out of production under the federal crop adjustment program.

A proposal that names be drawn from a hat to determine the order of those applying was turned down at a meeting Friday.

After rumors spread that the $120,000 allocated to the county might not be enough to take care of all who applied, a line started forming Nov. 18. By late Friday, a waiting list had 156 names.

In order to keep his name on the waiting list, the farmer had to abide by certain ground rules, one of which specified that he could not leave the office area for more than two hours at one time.

Some farmers who showed up protested this method, saying they could not afford to leave their farms and camp out in the office parking lot.

An ASCS spokesman, Delbert Brown, said distribution of the funds will be arranged Monday on a first-come, first-serve basis "regardless of what sort of procedure" the farmers work out to determine who is first.

Brown said the law required him to sign up the farmers in the order that they come in the door Monday. When farmers from a community which has used up its limit apply, they will be turned away, he said.

"We think we could figure out a better system but we don't have this authority," said Brown. "There were some farmers who had suggested that a limit be placed on how much money an individual farmer could sign up for."

Federal regulations prohibit this, however, he said. A farmer can place his entire acreage of crops into the program.

6 Are Jailed In Canton On Dope Charges

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Four men and two women charged with narcotics violations were held in jail here after they were unable to post bonds totaling $402,000.

Police said the six, all charged with possession of marijuana and using a minor to transport marijuana, were picked up Thursday as they drove into Canton from Michigan.

The "minor" involved in the case, police said, was a 5-month-old child in whose diapers investigators found marijuana hidden in a plastic wrapper.

The six were arraigned Friday before Municipal Court Judge Clay E. Hunter and pleaded innocent.

Judge Hunter set bonds totaling $100,000—$50,000 on each of the two counts—for Leo Sutton, 30, of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Wyatt Taylor, 40, of Jackson, Mich. Reason for the high bond, the judge said, was that the two were on parole for narcotics in Michigan.

Bond of $25,000 on each of two charges was set for Brenda Seymour, 19, of Canton, and three Ypsilanti residents — Charles Taylor, 32, Huston Taylor Jr., 37, and Lucille Sutton 29.

In addition, the women were charged with carrying concealed weapons and bond was set at $1,000 on those charges.

Police said the six had made several trips from Michigan to Canton and had been under investigation since last summer.

The infant in whose clothing the marijuana was found was Brenda Seymour's child, police reported.

2 Former W. Va. Officials Plan High Court Plea

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Former Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack A. Nuckols and former Motor Vehicles Department inspector Fred Vines say they will take their convictions for falsifying state records to the State Supreme Court.

The two men were denied appeals Friday by Kanawha County Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Taylor.

The 49-year-old Nuckols and the 56-year-old Vines challenged the sufficienty and legality of the grand jury which returned the indictments against them.

Nuckols, a former Raleigh County resident now living in Maryland, was convicted last spring of making false entries in state records while he served as commissioner in 1964 and part of 1965.

Vines, of Flat Top, was charged with submitting a falsified expense account.

The two men each received 1-10 year sentences last April in Kanawha County Intermediate Court.

Clemency Asked At Hearings

3 Doomed Men To Learn If They Will Be Executed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three men scheduled to die in Ohio's electric chair next Friday will learn early next week whether their executions will be carried out.

Lawyers, ministers and family members went before Ohio's Adult Parole Authority Friday to ask clemency for Lester E. Swiger, 32, Curtis A. Bellamy, 21, and Elmer G. Miller, 43.

The three were convicted of first-degree murder three years ago in the robbery beating of Mrs. Emma Austing, a 76-year-old rural Cincinnati widow.

Attorneys argued in separate hearings that the three had intended only to steal a 600-pound safe containing some $2,400 and that the injuries Mrs. Austing suffered in the beating were not the "proximate cause" of her death.

Swiger's lawyers argued that the victim died of an unrelated blood clot 15 days after the beating. He said a doctor's examination the day she died showed her almost well enough to be discharged from the hospital.

He said the case had been rejected by the U.S. Supreme Court, but that subsequent decisions of the high court negated grounds for the Ohio Supreme Court's earlier upholding of the convictions.

Miller's attorney, Flach Douglas, said he was "reasonably convinced" Miller and Swiger planned the robbery. But he said Miller remained outside the Austing house and was taking saddles while the other two were inside.

Attorneys for Bellamy described him as a 19-year-old youth "easily led and easily influenced by older people" at the time of the crime. They said he was "plied with liquor" by Miller and Swiger, who recruited him at the last minute to replace another man, who backed out.

Attorneys said the blod clot that killed Mrs. Austing was of the type that normally forms in a patient's lower legs, but that she suffered no injuries below the abdomen in the beating.

Arthur Shuman, chairman of the parole board, said its recommendations would be in the hands of Gov. James A. Rhodes early next week. He said separate recommendations would be made in each case.

Attorneys indicated that if Rhodes granted a stay of execution, but not clemency, they might begin a new appeal in the original trial courts based on new U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Controversial And Colorful

Post Office Rush Looms On New Christmas Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office is bracing itself for an expected onrush of customers eager to purchase what may be its best-selling, most controversial and certainly most colorful Christmas stamp.

The five-color stamp, a reproduction of Flemish Renaissance painter Hans Memling's "Madonna and Child with Angels," went on sale Nov. 1 at Christmas, Mich.

It is its religious theme that has brought the stamp both praise and complaints. In 1962, 1963 and 1964, the Post Office's Christmas stamps depicted nothing more religious than candles, wreaths and Christmas trees. Last year's stamp pictured a winged angel with a trumpet.

Some of those opposed to issuance of a Christmas stamp felt this year's venture went too far.

A spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union said, "The stamp has a religious motif — a Christian motif — and it therefore is a governmental means of showing preference for a single religion. . .clearly a preferential governmental aid in propagating a religious faith."

The Post Office official line is that the stamp celebrates a famed work of art. And, as with any Christmas stamp, its real purpose is to have Christmas card mailers pay five cents per card — the Christmas stamp costs five cents — rather than send them under a four-cent rate.

But Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien is known to have told representatives of seven influential Jewish organizations at a hitherto unreported meeting that — as a spokesman said — "he was not going to be a hypocrite in issuing a Christmas stamp.

"He was not going to issue a Christmas stamp and claim it was divorced from religion — from the true meaning of Christmas."

The department has printed 1.2 billion of the stamps at a cost of $504,000 — or 4.2 cents per sheet of 100 — and expects to sell them for $60 million. The average one-color stamp costs 2 cents per sheet of 100, or about $240,000 for 1.2 billion.

Wounded War II Vet Due $10,537 Back Payments

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Arandall J. Snodgrass, 43, who was wounded by a Japanese sniper in the Philippines during World War II, has worn a silver plate in his head for more than 20 years.

He has been receiving a government disability pension for the wound. A few weeks ago a Veterans Administration official in the regional office in Huntington discovered the hole in Snodgrass' head was larger than had been marked on government records.

The VA office said Snodgrass of Charleston, would receive $10,537.40 in back payments since his disability pension was based on an inaccurate rate determined by the size of bone loss in the skull.

Pope Urban VII had the shortest reign of any pope. He was elected Sept. 15, 1590, and died 12 days later on Sept. 27.

5 Drivers Fined, 3 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Five drivers were fined and three forfeited appearance bonds Friday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Judge J. L. MacDonald fined: Gene M. McCune of 435 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $10 and costs, and failure to transfer registration to motor vehicle, $5 and costs (fine suspended); Clement R. Boron of Canton, driving left of center, and Gordon L. Smith of Hanoverton R.D. 1, speeding, $10 and costs each; and Robert B. McCoy of 1304 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, passing traffic in a hazardous zone, and John S. Horn, 20, of 226 Benton Rd., Salem, speeding, $5 and costs each.

Forfeiting $15 each on speeding charges were Larry W. Starcher and Richard L. Cramer, both of Canton, and Ronald J. Chell of Weirton.

Australian Vote Led By Holt Regime

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Early returns in the Australian parliamentary election today indicated the government of Prime Minister Harold E. Holt would be returned.

No major trend developed in the early count, neither a shift to Labor nor a landslide vote for the government which had a handy majority of 19 seats in the Parliament.

Victory for the government coalition of Liberal and Country parties would be a voter endorsement of Holt's policy of placing troops in Viet Nam.

An estimated six million Australians were expected to vote.

Holt, a Liberal who heads a Liberal-Country party coalition that holds 71 of the 124 seats in Parliament, strongly supported involvement in Viet Nam, where Australia now has 4,500 troops.

Opposition Labor party leader Arthur A. Calwell said that if his party were elected he would "withdraw all conscripts in Viet Nam" and later bring home the remaining troops "after consultation with our allies and so as not to endanger the lives of any Australian or allied troops."

Some observers forecast that the Liberal-Country party coalition might lose a few seats. Others said it would increase its majority. The Labor party has 52 seats and there is one independent. The new Parliament will serve for three years.

Young Declares He's Definitely Against Tax Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says he "very definitely" won't support any Administration proposal for higher income taxes.

And, he adds, "until the situation is brought under control" in the matter of what he calls preposterous salaries in the State and Defense departments, he will vote against continuing promotions of hundreds of high-ranking Army and Air Force officers.

Young urged eliminating what he terms wasteful spending in the two departments in preference to tax increases.

"The first place to start is in the State Department," the Ohioan said in a statement Friday. He is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

He said "my research shows that this department is a horrible example of top-heavy high salaried--and I mean $18,000 per year and up – officials in our foreign service" doing work that should be done by those in lower salary brackets.

The economy axe "should be swung good and hard" in the Defense Department too, Young added.

In All But 7 States And D.C.

Cut In Highway Program Hits Value Of Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The anti-inflationary cutback in the federal highway program will reduce the actual value of new road building contracts this fiscal year in all but seven states and the District of Columbia.

In some states, the cutbacks could be substantial when compared with the actual volume of contracts awarded during the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

Some states ate heavily into their backlogs of contract authority which they had accumulated, something they won't be able to do now.

In addition to the 17.5 per cent reduction in this year's program, the Bureau of Public Roads cutback order also freezes the more than $1 billion in backlogs the states had accumulated through last June 30.

It will be up to the states, themselves, to decide where the actual cutbacks are to be made. The bureau anticipates that some projects will be postponed and others stretched out.

The Bureau of Public Roads actually committed funds for highway construction from July through October — the first four months of the current fiscal year — at a slower pace than called for under the cutback.

The bureau emphasized that the cutbacks are temporary and could be rescinded later with a further cooling in inflationary pressures.

The cutback in this year's program from $4 billion to $3.3 billion is part of President Johnson's effort to cut nondefense spending as much as possible without harming essential programs.

The reason some states will be able to award more contracts this fiscal year than last is that they failed last year to use a substantial part of the contract authority they had already obtained from the bureau.

In an attempt to spread the burden evenly among the states, the bureau order freezes the more than $1 billion in backlogs, ranging as of last June 30 from $119.4 million in Maryland to only $994 in North Carolina.

The freeze means that only $3.3 billion can be committed to new highway contracts during the current fiscal year which ends next June 30 instead of $4 billion as anticipated earlier. About $3.97 billion in new contracts was actually awarded during the last fiscal year.

Ohio Car Insurance Rates To Be Increased Nov. 30

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Automobile insurance rates will be increased for Ohioans effective Nov. 30, ranging from an 11.5 per cent boost in average comprehensive coverage to an average 13.5 per cent increase in liability coverage.

The announcement came from the National Automobile Underwriters Association and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, insurance rating organizations. The insurance representatives filed the adjusted rates with the Ohio Department of Insurance.

The Ohio Department of Insurance said Friday the association and bureau filed the adjustments in behalf of their member companies. A spokesman of the department added that the adjustments will be reviewed by the department, and hearings called if they fail to meet statutory requirements of adequacy, non - excessiveness and non-discrimination.

The association said the increased frequency and cost of insurance accidents in Ohio brings about the necessity for these adjustments.

The statewide average for comprehensive and collision insurance on private passage cars will be 11.5 per cent more. Liability coverage for these cars will average 13.5 per cent additional for basic limits.

The announcement said the 10 per cent discount for compact cars instituted several years ago will be discontinued. Insurance officials said it had been hoped that the smaller cars would incur lower claim costs, but that this has not proven to be the case.

The effect of the revised premiums of the individual driver depends upon where he lives; his driving record; whether he has youthful drivers in his household and their age, sex, and marital status, and whether they have driver education; the amounts of insurance carried, and other factors.

The new rates will not affect outstanding policies but will apply to them when they are renewed.

For motorists having no chargeable accidents over the past three years, with no youthful drivers in the household, and using a standard size car, for pleasure purposes only, the increase in basic liability insurance rates will range from $1 to $12 depending upon the locality in which he lives.

Under the same circumstances, adjustments in the premiums for comprehensive coverage for a medium price car will vary from minus $1 to an increase of $3. Premiums for the same car for collision insurance with $100 deductible, the most common form, will not be changed in some areas, but will be raised up to $6 in others.

The insurance representatives claimed Ohio's auto insurance premiums continue to be relatively lower than many other states. The national average for basic coverage is $76.52 while Ohio's statewide average, prior to this adjustment, was $69.80.

Ohio's over-all traffic accident record continues an upward trend, the insurance association declared. In 1965 property damage alone was estimated at $81 million against $75.5 million in 1964.

Also increased are premiums for commercial vehicles. Average statewide rates will be up 9.3 per cent for liability and 7.6 per cent for comprehensive and collision insurance.

Seek Pay Under Crop Program

Farmers Eye Democratic Plan To Present Request

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — About 300 farmers, many of whom have been camped out for more than a week while waiting to apply for federal funds, meet again today to try to work out what one calls a "democratic procedure" in presenting their applications.

The Roosevelt County farmers are at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office at Portales in eastern New Mexico in hopes of receiving payment for taking their cropland out of production under the federal crop adjustment program.

A proposal that names be drawn from a hat to determine the order of those applying was turned down at a meeting Friday.

After rumors spread that the $120,000 allocated to the county might not be enough to take care of all who applied, a line started forming Nov. 18. By late Friday, a waiting list had 156 names.

In order to keep his name on the waiting list, the farmer had to abide by certain ground rules, one of which specified that he could not leave the office area for more than two hours at one time.

Some farmers who showed up protested this method, saying they could not afford to leave their farms and camp out in the office parking lot.

An ASCS spokesman, Delbert Brown, said distribution of the funds will be arranged Monday on a first-come, first-serve basis "regardless of what sort of procedure" the farmers work out to determine who is first.

Brown said the law required him to sign up the farmers in the order that they come in the door Monday. When farmers from a community which has used up its limit apply, they will be turned away, he said.

"We think we could figure out a better system but we don't have this authority," said Brown. "There were some farmers who had suggested that a limit be placed on how much money an individual farmer could sign up for."

Federal regulations prohibit this, however, he said. A farmer can place his entire acreage of crops into the program.

HAVANA (AP) — An explosion at a coeducational military school in a suburban Havana residential area killed three girl students and injured more than a dozen other students.

6 Are Jailed In Canton On Dope Charges

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Four men and two women charged with narcotics violations were held in jail here after they were unable to post bonds totaling $402,000.

Police said the six, all charged with possession of marijuana and using a minor to transport marijuana, were picked up Thursday as they drove into Canton from Michigan.

The "minor" involved in the case, police said, was a 5-month-old child in whose diapers investigators found marijuana hidden in a plastic wrapper.

The six were arraigned Friday before Municipal Court Judge Clay E. Hunter and pleaded innocent.

Judge Hunter set bonds totaling $100,000—$50,000 on each of the two counts—for Leo Sutton, 30, of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Wyatt Taylor, 40, of Jackson, Mich. Reason for the high bond, the judge said, was that the two were on parole for narcotics in Michigan.

Bond of $25,000 on each of two charges was set for Brenda Seymour, 19, of Canton, and three Ypsilanti residents — Charles Taylor, 32, Huston Taylor Jr., 37, and Lucille Sutton 29.

In addition, the women were charged with carrying concealed weapons and bond was set at $1,000 on those charges.

Police said the six had made several trips from Michigan to Canton and had been under investigation since last summer.

The infant in whose clothing the marijuana was found was Brenda Seymour's child, police reported.

2 Former W. Va. Officials Plan High Court Plea

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Former Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack A. Nuckols and former Motor Vehicles Department inspector Fred Vines say they will take their convictions for falsifying state records to the State Supreme Court.

The two men were denied appeals Friday by Kanawha County Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Taylor.

The 49-year-old Nuckols and the 56-year-old Vines challenged the sufficienty and legality of the grand jury which returned the indictments against them.

Nuckols, a former Raleigh County resident now living in Maryland, was convicted last spring of making false entries in state records while he served as commissioner in 1964 and part of 1965.

Vines, of Flat Top, was charged with submitting a falsified expense account.

The two men each received 1-10 year sentences last April in Kanawha County Intermediate Court.

Clemency Asked At Hearings

3 Doomed Men To Learn If They Will Be Executed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three men scheduled to die in Ohio's electric chair next Friday will learn early next week whether their executions will be carried out.

Lawyers, ministers and family members went before Ohio's Adult Parole Authority Friday to ask clemency for Lester E. Swiger, 32, Curtis A. Bellamy, 21, and Elmer G. Miller, 43.

The three were convicted of first-degree murder three years ago in the robbery beating of Mrs. Emma Austing, a 76-year-old rural Cincinnati widow.

Attorneys argued in separate hearings that the three had intended only to steal a 600-pound safe containing some $2,400 and that the injuries Mrs. Austing suffered in the beating were not the "proximate cause" of her death.

Swiger's lawyers argued that the victim died of an unrelated blood clot 15 days after the beating. He said a doctor's examination the day she died showed her almost well enough to be discharged from the hospital.

He said the case had been rejected by the U.S. Supreme Court, but that subsequent decisions of the high court negated grounds for the Ohio Supreme Court's earlier upholding of the convictions.

Miller's attorney, Flach Douglas, said he was "reasonably convinced" Miller and Swiger planned the robbery. But he said Miller remained outside the Austing house and was taking saddles while the other two were inside.

Attorneys for Bellamy described him as a 19-year-old youth "easily led and easily influenced by older people" at the time of the crime. They said he was "plied with liquor" by Miller and Swiger, who recruited him at the last minute to replace another man, who backed out.

Attorneys said the blod clot that killed Mrs. Austing was of the type that normally forms in a patient's lower legs, but that she suffered no injuries below the abdomen in the beating.

Arthur Shuman, chairman of the parole board, said its recommendations would be in the hands of Gov. James A. Rhodes early next week. He said separate recommendations would be made in each case.

Attorneys indicated that if Rhodes granted a stay of execution, but not clemency, they might begin a new appeal in the original trial courts based on new U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Post Office Rush Looms On New Christmas Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office is bracing itself for an expected onrush of customers eager to purchase what may be its best-selling, most controversial and certainly most colorful Christmas stamp.

The five-color stamp, a reproduction of Flemish Renaissance painter Hans Memling's "Madonna and Child with Angels," went on sale Nov. 1 at Christmas, Mich.

It is its religious theme that has brought the stamp both praise and complaints. In 1962, 1963 and 1964, the Post Office's Christmas stamps depicted nothing more religious than candles, wreaths and Christmas trees. Last year's stamp pictured a winged angel with a trumpet.

The freeze means that only $3.3 billion can be committed to new highway contracts during the current fiscal year which ends next June 30 instead of $4 billion as anticipated earlier. About $3.97 billion in new contracts was actually awarded during the last fiscal year.

Midland Rolls In Opener, 75-28

SCORING ON THIS play for Midland is John Williams (15) who shoots over the head of a Western Beaver defender in the first half of Friday night's game at Midland. The Leopards opened the season with a 75-28 victory over the Beavers.

Notre Dame Risks No. 1 Spot

Army, Navy Clash For 67th Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mighty Notre Dame and Rose Bowl-bound Southern California met today in the 38th renewal of a fierce intersectional series that has commanded national interest through the years.

Ever since 1926, when Knute Rockne's Fighting Irish and the Trojans of Howard Jones tangled for the first time, the rivalry has produced exciting—and unpredictable — results.

The Irish won that first meeting 13-12, but Southern Cal has recouped more than once over the ensuing years.

Just two seasons ago, the Trojans stunned Notre Dame 20-17 under circumstances strikingly similar to those surrounding today's encounter.

It was Ara Parseghian's first year at South Bend, and the Irish went west with an unbeaten mark in nine games — as they did today — and the national championship all but tucked away.

The Irish raced to a 17-0 halftime lead before the Trojans retaliated. With the score 17-13 Notre Dame and seconds remaining, Craig Fertig hit Rod Sherman with the winning touchdown strike.

While Notre Dame risked its No. 1 ranking against the 10th ranked Trojans today, traditional season wind-ups — headed by the Army-Navy war at Philadelphia — dotted the schedule.

The Cadets and Middies clashed for the 67th time in the interservice spectacular, witnessed by 100,000 fans at John F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium and a national television audience.

Georgia Tech, unbeaten in nine starts, and once-beaten Georgia, rated fifth and seventh nationally, collided for the 61st time while Virginia and North Carolina continued a rivalry that started in 1892.

Southern Methodist, needing a victory to win the Southwest Conference title and host berth in the Cotton Bowl, took on Texas Christian in an annual season-ending brawl and Clemson, seeking to nail the Atlantic Coast Conference crown, tackled arch-rival South Carolina.

Other fixtures included Miami-Florida, Holy Cross-Boston College, Rice-Baylor, Mississippi-Mississippi State and Tennessee-Vanderbilt.

Third-ranked Alabama, 8-0, met Southern Mississippi in its next-to-last start and Sun Bowl-bound Florida State entertained Maryland in other top games.

West Beaver Handed 2nd Floor Loss

Midland High School kicked off the 1966-67 basketball season with a romping 75-28 victory over neighboring Western Beaver before some 1,200 fans Friday night at Midland.

While the contest was the opener for Coach Hank Kuzma's five, it marked the second defeat in two games for Western which opened Wednesday night losing to New Brighton.

AFTER the first period, the issue was never in doubt as the Leopards came on strong in the second half especially in the fourth period to pour in 29 points in the final eight minutes.

Leading 46-21 after three periods, Kuzma ordered an all-court press and the Leopards responded with 29 points while Western Beaver failed to score a field goal in the final quarter.

In fact Western's last field goal of the game came with 3:17 still remaining in the third quarter.

THE LEOPARDS showed a well balanced attack and Kuzma used eleven players. Jeff Lake led the way with 13 points while Rich Mahurt followed with 12. Five Midland players ended with eight points each.

The contest was a typical opening night affair marked by turnovers on both sides but Midland hit on 34 of 84 attempts for 40 per cent while Western Beaver only made 19 per cent of their field goal tries hitting 9 of 47. Midland completely controlled the boards over the smaller Beavers with a 47-18 edge in rebounds.

NO WESTERN Beaver player hit the double figures with Mike Lacey's seven points the top total.

Western Beaver held a slim lead in the early minutes of the game but with 1:24 left in the first period Jan Samuels put Midland in front 8-7 and the Leopards never trailed after that.

The first period score was 11-7 and grew to 30-13 at halftime.

Midland returns to the home court Tuesday night meeting Munhall then entertains Wellsville next Friday.

The reserve contest last night went to Midland 42-30 as Greg Vanlier pumped in 14 points and Howard Leak added 10. John Petchel's 10 points led the visitors.

Starr Ready To Play

Green Bay Out To Avenge Vikings; Jets Battle KC

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Namath faces a deck stacked with aces Sunday when the New York Jets tackle powerful Kansas City in a key American Football League game.

While the Jets must count on Namath's passing to keep their Eastern Division title hopes alive, the Chiefs, who lead the Western Division by 2½ games, can counter with nine players who rank among the league's individual leaders.

Len Dawson, the Kansas City quarterback, is the AFL's No. 1 passer. His primary targets, Otis Taylor and Chris Burford, are second and fourth in receiving. Rookie Mike Garrett is fourth in rushing yardage while teammates Bert Coan and Curtis McClinton are sixth and eighth, respectively.

Defensively, Johnny Robinson and Bobby Hunt of the Chiefs share the lead in interceptions with nine apiece and Jerrel Wilson is the No. 2 punter.

The Jets, hobbled by the loss of fullback Matt Snell, will rely heavily on Namath's pitching and the catching of George Sauer, who leads the league with 49 receptions.

While the Chiefs seek their ninth victory in 12 starts, the Green Bay Packers, buoyed by the return of quarterback Bart Starr, will try to turn the tables on Minnesota and improve their lead in the National Football League's Western Division.

The Vikings upset Green Bay 20-17 three weeks ago but have dropped two in a row since. The Packers have rebounded for an 8-2 mark and reclaimed the top spot in the West. Starr sat out last week's 13-6 victory over Chicago with a pulled hamstring muscle but Zeke Bratkowski riddled the Bears with two TD passes.

Boston is at Miami and San Diego at Denver in other AFL games. In the NFL, Pittsburgh visits St. Louis, Los Angeles is at Baltimore, Atlanta at Chicago and New York at Washington.

Dallas topped Cleveland 26-14 and San Francisco ripped Detroit 41-14 in Thursday's NFL games and Buffalo drubbed Oakland 31-10 in an AFL holiday attraction.

Yancey Leads Cajun Event By One Stroke

LAFAYETTE, LA. (AP) — "Golf is a selfish business," says Bert Yancey, a young Floridian who has won three tournaments this year and is seeking a fourth in the Cajun Classic-final stop for 1966 on the PGA circuit.

Yancey carries a one-stroke lead into today's third round of the $34,500 Cajun Classic after shooting a five-under par 67 Friday to go with his first round 65. His 36-hole score was 132.

"In golf, you play for yourself, and I don't feel that I'm really contributing anything to the world," said Yancey in an interview after his round Friday. "It's kind of depressing at times."

Hot on Yancey's heels after the second round was Johnny Pott, who hasn't won a tour victory in two years but has picked up paychecks totaling $95,000. Pott had a 66 Friday for a 133 total.

Just behind Pott, at 134, were Bob Goalby, John Schlee, Jacky Cupit, and Wright Garrett.

Wilt Sinks 16-For-17, Tallies 41 For 76ers

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hannum is supposed to be the one coach who can handle Wilt Chamberlain, but the skipper of the Philadelphia 76ers says The Stilt does all right on his own.

In fact, after Chamberlain scored 41 points and led Philadelphia to a 129-115 victory over Baltimore Friday night, Hannum indicated his own presence was a bit superfluous. He credited Wilt with everything but putting air in the basketballs.

Wilt sank his first 12 shots from the floor, missed his first attempt in the fourth quarter, and then made his last four.

Chamberlain holds the NBA record of 19 consecutive field goals, so 16-for-17 isn't too spectacular. But he also made nine of 11 free throws, and for Wilt that's almost a miracle.

The 7-foot-2 star also grabbed 19 rebounds, assisted on four baskets and blocked several shots from his one-man zone.

"With Greer out, Wilt took charge," Hannum said. "He knew what had to be done. He's the leader in every respect. He even took himself out of the game when he could have scored 50 or 60 points, but he knew we had a game Saturday night."

The 76ers now lead the Eastern Division by two games over the Boston Celtics, who lost Friday night to the Detroit Pistons 107-105.

The Cincinnati Royals beat the New York Knickerbockers 115-109 and Chicago Bulls defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 121-117 in other NBA games.

Navy Scout Ends Streak

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — No matter what the result of today's Army-Navy football game is it brings to an end the 32-game streak of Harry Dietz.

Dietz is a Marine captain who has been Navy's ambassador to Army football games the past three seasons and as such has seen every battle the Cadets have waged during that time.

Dietz has scouted his last game — at least for the immediate future. That's been taken care of by a transfer to Viet Nam in January.

Before leaving, Dietz hoped to see Navy even its season record against an Army team that lost only to Notre Dame and Tennessee in nine games. Navy went into today's game with a 4-5 record.

The Midshipmen pinned their hopes on John Cartwright's outdueling Steve Lindell in the clash of the quarterbacks. Cartwright, a junior, has completed 79 of 164 passes for 973 yards. Lindell, a sophomore, has completed 68 of 140 for 873 yards.

Four Pennsylvanians Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified four Pennsylvanians Friday as killed in action in the Viet Nam war.

They were Army S-Sgt. Charles K. Malone, husband of Mrs. Mary Malone of Bloomsburg; Army Pfc. Aloysius J. Stuhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius Stuhl of Philadelphia; Army Pfc. Marion Watkins, father of David A. Shannon of Erie, and Marine Lance Cpl. Charles L. Isley III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Isley Jr. of Philadelphia.

Razorbacks Decline Bid For Liberty

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arkansas bowed out Friday and the selection committee for the Liberty Bowl decided to await the outcome of Saturday's grid activity before picking an opponent for Miami.

Arkansas had been extended an invitation to meet Miami in the Dec. 10 game here, but Razorback Coach Frank Broyles announced the bid had been declined. He said the team had suffered too many injuries to be ready in time for the Liberty, and the only bowl bid they would accept would be the Cotton.

Southern Methodist plays Texas Christian Saturday and a victory or tie would give the Mustangs the host berth opposite Georgia in the Cotton Bowl. Should SMU lose, Arkansas would get the bid, and SMU would be free for the Liberty.

A. F. (Bud) Dudley, Liberty Bowl president, said SMU officials have indicated they would be interested in the Liberty Bowl should the Mustangs lose.

Oklahoma and Virginia Tech are other teams still in contention for the Liberty.

Colts Are Fit To Meet Rams

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, preparing for Sunday's National Football League game with the Los Angeles Rams in an atmosphere of hometown gloom, have at least one big factor in their favor.

All of the Colts' walking wounded are running again.

Linebacker Dennis Gaubatz, offensive guard Dan Sullivan, free safety Alvin Haymond, and offensive guard Sam Ball were all reported to be fit and ready to entertain Los Angeles.

The big question mark, quarterback John Unitas, is slated to start after effective performances in practice this week.

Unitas, who reportedly had a bruised shoulder, threw five interceptions in Thursday's 20-14 loss to Detroit.

Packers Usually Even Score With Minnesota Foe

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—If history repeats, the Green Bay Packers could explode Sunday and bury the Minnesota Vikings under an offensive avalanche in their 1966 National Football League rematch.

Whether the Packers do, however, rests on one great intangible: the fickle Vikings' emotional state.

In 1964, the Vikings scored their first victory over the Packers at Green Bay, 24-23. In that year's rematch four weeks later, Green Bay blew down Minnesota 42-13 here.

Three weeks ago, the Vikings upset the Packers again, 20-17 at Green Bay. Now, the Western Division-leading Packers, who stand 8-2, have the same incentive to avenge a defeat against an inconsistent foe which shows a 3-6-1 record.

Starr Ready To Play

Green Bay Out To Avenge Vikings; Jets Battle KC

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Namath faces a deck stacked with aces Sunday when the New York Jets tackle powerful Kansas City in a key American Football League game.

While the Jets must count on Namath's passing to keep their Eastern Division title hopes alive, the Chiefs, who lead the Western Division by 2½ games, can counter with nine players who rank among the league's individual leaders.

Len Dawson, the Kansas City quarterback, is the AFL's No. 1 passer. His primary targets, Otis Taylor and Chris Burford, are second and fourth in receiving. Rookie Mike Garrett is fourth in rushing yardage while teammates Bert Coan and Curtis McClinton are sixth and eighth, respectively.

Defensively, Johnny Robinson and Bobby Hunt of the Chiefs share the lead in interceptions with nine apiece and Jerrel Wilson is the No. 2 punter.

The Jets, hobbled by the loss of fullback Matt Snell, will rely heavily on Namath's pitching and the catching of George Sauer, who leads the league with 49 receptions.

While the Chiefs seek their ninth victory in 12 starts, the Green Bay Packers, buoyed by the return of quarterback Bart Starr, will try to turn the tables on Minnesota and improve their lead in the National Football League's Western Division.

The Vikings upset Green Bay 20-17 three weeks ago but have dropped two in a row since. The Packers have rebounded for an 8-2 mark and reclaimed the top spot in the West. Starr sat out last week's 13-6 victory over Chicago with a pulled hamstring muscle but Zeke Bratkowski riddled the Bears with two TD passes.

Boston is at Miami and San Diego at Denver in other AFL games. In the NFL, Pittsburgh visits St. Louis, Los Angeles is at Baltimore, Atlanta at Chicago and New York at Washington.

Dallas topped Cleveland 26-14 and San Francisco ripped Detroit 41-14 in Thursday's NFL games and Buffalo drubbed Oakland 31-10 in an AFL holiday attraction.

Yancey Leads Cajun Event By One Stroke

LAFAYETTE, LA. (AP) — "Golf is a selfish business," says Bert Yancey, a young Floridian who has won three tournaments this year and is seeking a fourth in the Cajun Classic-final stop for 1966 on the PGA circuit.

Yancey carries a one-stroke lead into today's third round of the $34,500 Cajun Classic after shooting a five-under par 67 Friday to go with his first round 65. His 36-hole score was 132.

"In golf, you play for yourself, and I don't feel that I'm really contributing anything to the world," said Yancey in an interview after his round Friday. "It's kind of depressing at times."

Hot on Yancey's heels after the second round was Johnny Pott, who hasn't won a tour victory in two years but has picked up paychecks totaling $95,000. Pott had a 66 Friday for a 133 total.

Just behind Pott, at 134, were Bob Goalby, John Schlee, Jacky Cupit, and Wright Garrett.

Wilt Sinks 16-For-17, Tallies 41 For 76ers

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hannum is supposed to be the one coach who can handle Wilt Chamberlain, but the skipper of the Philadelphia 76ers says The Stilt does all right on his own.

In fact, after Chamberlain scored 41 points and led Philadelphia to a 129-115 victory over Baltimore Friday night, Hannum indicated his own presence was a bit superfluous. He credited Wilt with everything but putting air in the basketballs.

With their high-scoring guard, Hal Greer, sidelined with a viral infection, Chamberlain took over the offensive load.

Wilt sank his first 12 shots from the floor, missed his first attempt in the fourth quarter, and then made his last four.

Chamberlain holds the NBA record of 19 consecutive field goals, so 16-for-17 isn't too spectacular. But he also made nine of 11 free throws, and for Wilt that's almost a miracle.

The 7-foot-2 star also grabbed 19 rebounds, assisted on four baskets and blocked several shots from his one-man zone.

"With Greer out, Wilt took charge," Hannum said. "He knew what had to be done. He's the leader in every respect. He even took himself out of the game when he could have scored 50 or 60 points, but he knew we had a game Saturday night."

The 76ers now lead the Eastern Division by two games over the Boston Celtics, who lost Friday night to the Detroit Pistons 107-105.

The Cincinnati Royals beat the New York Knickerbockers 115-109 and Chicago Bulls defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 121-117 in other NBA games.

Navy Scout Ends Streak

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — No matter what the result of today's Army-Navy football game is it brings to an end the 32-game streak of Harry Dietz.

Dietz is a Marine captain who has been Navy's ambassador to Army football games the past three seasons and as such has seen every battle the Cadets have waged during that time.

Dietz has scouted his last game — at least for the immediate future. That's been taken care of by a transfer to Viet Nam in January.

Before leaving, Dietz hoped to see Navy even its season record against an Army team that lost only to Notre Dame and Tennessee in nine games. Navy went into today's game with a 4-5 record.

The Midshipmen pinned their hopes on John Cartwright's outdueling Steve Lindell in the clash of the quarterbacks. Cartwright, a junior, has completed 79 of 164 passes for 973 yards. Lindell, a sophomore, has completed 68 of 140 for 873 yards.

Four Pennsylvanians Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified four Pennsylvanians Friday as killed in action in the Viet Nam war.

They were Army S-Sgt. Charles K. Malone, husband of Mrs. Mary Malone of Bloomsburg; Army Pfc. Aloysius J. Stuhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius Stuhl of Philadelphia; Army Pfc. Marion Watkins, father of David A. Shannon of Erie, and Marine Lance Cpl. Charles L. Isley III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Isley Jr. of Philadelphia.

Razorbacks Decline Bid For Liberty

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arkansas bowed out Friday and the selection committee for the Liberty Bowl decided to await the outcome of Saturday's grid activity before picking an opponent for Miami.

Arkansas had been extended an invitation to meet Miami in the Dec. 10 game here, but Razorback Coach Frank Broyles announced the bid had been declined. He said the team had suffered too many injuries to be ready in time for the Liberty, and the only bowl bid they would accept would be the Cotton.

Southern Methodist plays Texas Christian Saturday and a victory or tie would give the Mustangs the host berth opposite Georgia in the Cotton Bowl. Should SMU lose, Arkansas would get the bid, and SMU would be free for the Liberty.

A. F. (Bud) Dudley, Liberty Bowl president, said SMU officials have indicated they would be interested in the Liberty Bowl should the Mustangs lose.

Oklahoma and Virginia Tech are other teams still in contention for the Liberty.

Colts Are Fit To Meet Rams

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, preparing for Sunday's National Football League game with the Los Angeles Rams in an atmosphere of hometown gloom, have at least one big factor in their favor.

All of the Colts' walking wounded are running again.

Linebacker Dennis Gaubatz, offensive guard Dan Sullivan, free safety Alvin Haymond, and offensive guard Sam Ball were all reported to be fit and ready to entertain Los Angeles.

The big question mark, quarterback John Unitas, is slated to start after effective performances in practice this week.

Unitas, who reportedly had a bruised shoulder, threw five interceptions in Thursday's 20-14 loss to Detroit.

Packers Usually Even Score With Minnesota Foe

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—If history repeats, the Green Bay Packers could explode Sunday and bury the Minnesota Vikings under an offensive avalanche in their 1966 National Football League rematch.

Whether the Packers do, however, rests on one great intangible: the fickle Vikings' emotional state.

In 1964, the Vikings scored their first victory over the Packers at Green Bay, 24-23. In that year's rematch four weeks later, Green Bay blew down Minnesota 42-13 here.

Three weeks ago, the Vikings upset the Packers again, 20-17 at Green Bay. Now, the Western Division-leading Packers, who stand 8-2, have the same incentive to avenge a defeat against an inconsistent foe which shows a 3-6-1 record.

Bank Probes In Congress Tapering Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — A series of congressional investigations of various aspects of the banking industry may face an enforced tapering off.

The House Banking Committee stands to be substantially shaken up as a result of Republican gains in the House.

The shift could mean trouble for the leadership of Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., persistent critic of the Federal Reserve Board and of what he calls big-city predominance and monopolistic trends in the banking business.

Patman, who succeeded to the chairmanship four years ago, put an investigative staff to work on preliminaries for two years and then launched a series of public hearings into such matters as bank holding companies.

Legislation growing out of these hearings requires some financial organizations to divest themselves of some of their holdings over a period of years.

Hearings were held also on the practices of companies financing servicemen's purchases of automobiles. The Pentagon followed through with tightened regulations and a development of credit union facilities overseas.

The committee staff currently is finishing an investigation of the ownership of commercial banks in the United States. Patman has said he wants to determine whether criminal or other unsavory elements had acquired control even of a few institutions and more generally whether banks were directly or indirectly acquiring each others' stock without formal merger.

Some of the methods Patman used in the bank ownership investigation, especially his issuance of subpoenas for bank records, led to a revolt within the committee. The chairman, however, eventually emerged with his powers essentially intact, although he had to reissue some subpoenas his critics contended were void.

Reminder Given On Procedure In Flood Warnings

The Federal - State Flood Forecasting Service in Pittsburgh gave a reminder Thursday to Police Chief A. J. Radeschi on the new procedure to be followed in area riverfront communities in issuing predictions on predicted Ohio River crests.

The procedure was followed for the first time in late 1965 and early 1966, but Paul F. Jacoby, meteorologist in charge of the Pittsburgh office, told the chief in a letter he thought the public and the official agencies involved should be notified again.

In the case of East Liverpool, flood warnings are relayed from the Pittsburgh office to the police department, which has the responsibility of passing them on to all affected local agencies. Citizens and organizations needing data on river stages may telephone the department at FU 5-1234 or FU 5-1235. Flood stage arrives with a nine - foot reading on a new gauge mounted on a pier on the Chester Bridge.

At Wellsville, the flood forecasting information is handled by the fire department. The telephone number is LE 2-1338. Flood stage arrives when the lower pool gauge reads 33 feet at the Stratton dam.

Jacoby said the communities of Port Homer, Stratton, Empire and Toronto may obtain flood information from the lockmaster at the Stratton dam. The phone number is 537-2571. A reading of 36 feet on the lower pool gauge at Stratton marks flood stage for the four communities.

The greatest flow of any river in the world is that of the Amazon of South America, which discharges an average of about 7,500,000 cubic feet of water per second into the Atlantic Ocean.

Alleged Casino Rakeoffs

First 6 Witnesses Heard In Gaming Investigation

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A federal grand jury heard the first six witnesses Friday in what could become an exhaustive probe of Nevada's $330 million-a-year gambling industry.

The grand jury hopes to learn whether Las Vegas casinos have raked off part of their profits before reporting them for taxes.

The investigation of the city's dozen major casinos could take several months.

Five of the six witnesses are employes of the Riviera Hotel-casino on the Las Vegas strip. The other is an accountant with the Nevada Gaming Control Board.

Auditor Donald Aikin, the first to appear, spent about an hour before the panel. In August, he testified before a state investigation which found no evidence of major wrongdoing by the casinos.

The cashier of the Riviera casino, Jay Gould, was the final witness. He was asked to return Tuesday when the panel reconvenes.

Five other witnesses had been subpoenaed to testify, but were excused after the grand jury was delayed briefly by another investigation. Among them was a former Riviera employe, now in charge of blackjack games at the Dunes Hotel-casino.

The Riviera was not involved in the state's inquiry into profit raking.

Some sources say the jury will avoid, at least for now, allegations by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents that unreported funds from casino profits have gone into crime syndicates in Eastern cities.

U.S. Atty. Joseph Ward said only it would "examine the tax aspects of the casino operations" and "determine if casinos have reported their full income."

Gov. Grant Sawyer says the jury was called to follow up on an Internal Revenue Service investigation of skimming, not reporting all profits.

Seek Large Vote

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spanish government agencies have begun a national campaign to bring out a large vote for the Dec. 14 national referendum on the new organic laws proposed last Tuesday by Gen. Francisco Franco.

Set Dec. 9 Strike

ROME (AP) — Two million Italian farm workers say they will strike Dec. 9 to protest the lack of an adequate government policy to prevent damaging floods.

Alleged Casino Rakeoffs

First 6 Witnesses Heard In Gaming Investigation

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A federal grand jury heard the first six witnesses Friday in what could become an exhaustive probe of Nevada's $330 million-a-year gambling industry.

The grand jury hopes to learn whether Las Vegas casinos have raked off part of their profits before reporting them for taxes.

The investigation of the city's dozen major casinos could take several months.

Five of the six witnesses are employes of the Riviera Hotel-casino on the Las Vegas strip. The other is an accountant with the Nevada Gaming Control Board.

Auditor Donald Aikin, the first to appear, spent about an hour before the panel. In August, he testified before a state investigation which found no evidence of major wrongdoing by the casinos.

The cashier of the Riviera casino, Jay Gould, was the final witness. He was asked to return Tuesday when the panel reconvenes.

Five other witnesses had been subpoenaed to testify, but were excused after the grand jury was delayed briefly by another investigation. Among them was a former Riviera employe, now in charge of blackjack games at the Dunes Hotel-casino.

The Riviera was not involved in the state's inquiry into profit raking.

Some sources say the jury will avoid, at least for now, allegations by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents that unreported funds from casino profits have gone into crime syndicates in Eastern cities.

U.S. Atty. Joseph Ward said only it would "examine the tax aspects of the casino operations" and "determine if casinos have reported their full income."

Gov. Grant Sawyer says the jury was called to follow up on an Internal Revenue Service investigation of skimming, not reporting all profits.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spanish government agencies have begun a national campaign to bring out a large vote for the Dec. 14 national referendum on the new organic laws proposed last Tuesday by Gen. Francisco Franco.

ROME (AP) — Two million Italian farm workers say they will strike Dec. 9 to protest the lack of an adequate government policy to prevent damaging floods.

Junior Editors Quiz on FRUIT FLIES

QUESTION: What good are fruit flies?

ANSWER: The fruit fly is a pest—but it has one useful function. Attracted by rotting, fermenting fruits, the female fly (1) buzzes around them and lays eggs (2) which hatch into maggots (3). These burrow through the fruit and turn into pupae (4), which become mature flies (5). Fruit growers have various ways of controlling these pests, such as cultivating under the trees, using sprays and destroying over-ripe fruit. Pest that he is, the fruit fly has been useful to scientists. These flies breed very rapidly; their life cycle is less than 2 weeks. This means that changes from one generation to another can be easily studied inside glass cages. A scientist, in our picture, is pointing out one of these changes to his interested audience. By using knowledge gained in this way, experts learn how to control plant and insect pests. Thus, the poor little fruit fly someday may succeed in eliminating himself!

FOR YOU TO DO: Don't worry about fruit fly maggots being in the firm clean fruits you buy in the stores; these have been carefully raised and inspected.

'Premium' Bus Service

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Experiment To Ease Rush-Hour Traffic Jams

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today a successful experiment to ease rush-hour traffic jams by luring people out of their cars and pampering them with "premium" bus service.

But, said the Department of Housing and Urban Development, it remains to be seen whether city transit companies can do the job on their own without the $83,616 federal grant used in the experiment.

The 14-month project even wooed commuters with free parking places at work into leaving their cars at home and riding the bus.

The special rush-hour experiment undertaken at Decatur and Peoria, Ill., started off with a single busload of 31 passengers and wound up with 17 routes carrying 542 passengers, the report said. It overlapped regular bus service in many areas.

The project was "essentially a personalized home-to-work and return express commuter service," the report said

This meant picking up passengers virtually at their front doors, high-speed trips, free taxi rides whenever a bus broke down and a monthly billing system instead of having passengers fumble for change to drop in a fare box.

Each passenger merely showed a special "flash pass" in getting on the bus and mailed in payments of $6 to $10 a month, depending on how far they rode.

But when the federal money ran out, the troubles began. The special "premium" bus service was dropped altogether in Decatur.

It continued in Peoria, but the transit company began eliminating such frills as the free cab rides during an emergency breakdown and passengers started dropping out of the "club" at a rapid rate.

But, said the interim report, the company then began reinstituting the extras and business at last report was climbing back up again. There'll be a follow-up report later.

Judge Cites Press Freedom After Assault On Announcer

America's ancient guarantee of freedom of the press was involved in a Municipal Court case in which a Beechwood man was given a six - month jail term on a charge of assaulting a WOHI announcer, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented from the bench as he imposed the sentence Friday.

Gerald Myler, 39, of 148 Beechwood St., convicted of striking Stewart (Stu) Wilson of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, as the announcer left the station about 12:30 a.m. Nov. 18, was taken to County Jail Friday afternoon to begin serving the term.

"This is not an ordinary case," the judge commented from the bench before imposing sentence. "Freedom of the press is involved. Reporters and announcers must have the right to report the news and their views freely and fully without fear of recriminations or reprisals. This right is vital to every American."

The judge added that "the disc jockey is a recent phenomena of radio." He recalled the days when radio programs were comprised primarily of dramas and other shows and added: "Now the announcers play records and comment on the singers, the persons who wrote the songs and other things. I have found Mr. Wilson a good disc jockey and I am one of his enthusiastic listeners.

"If a disc jockey or reporter feels he will be maligned or attacked because he has offended someone innocently, he might not say or write anything," the judge continued. "When he plays a record and someone has a fanciful idea that it is directed at him — everyone in the United States could feel the same way!"

In his closing argument, Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, referred to Myler as "a dangerous man" and added that he should "not be permitted to run loose."

The judge said that after Myler was sentenced the defendant's counsel, Bernard Fineman, advised the court his client had been under the care of a psychiatrist and asked that the sentence be suspended while he remained under care. The judge said he refused to suspend the sentence unless Myler "will undergo psychiatric care in a hospital — under restraints and not as an out-patient. The sentence will be suspended while the man is under treatment and then the court will consider the question of a suspension, the judge said.

Myler also was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge filed by police.

Loss In LaCroft Fire Estimated At $1,000

The loss has been set at $1,000 in a fire which destroyed a brick - frame home on 8th Ave., LaCroft, Friday morning.

Chief Homer Cronin of the Liverpool Township West volunteer department said the fire started in the basement.

The home, owned by Harold Angle of Lawrenceville, had been empty for about three years.

Neighbors saw the fire and notified the department at 10:20 a.m. Cronin said the blaze probably was caused by children playing with matches.

Two pumpers and a tanker truck from LaCroft and a tanker from Glenmoor were used in battling the flames.

Calls Take Firemen To Car, Garage Here

A fire in the front seat of an auto owned by Carl Pearson of 159 Pennsylvania Ave. was extinguished by city firemen at 714 Dresden Ave. Friday at 7:52 p. m. It was caused by a cigarette, firemen said.

Firemen said a 7-year-old boy started a fire that damaged a garage owned by Phil Miraglata at 1024 St. Clair Ave. yesterday at 9:38 a. m.

Payroll Plan Set By Employe Unit

A proposal to set up a payroll deduction plan was approved by the East Liverpool Municipal Employes Credit Union during a meeting Friday afternoon at the City Hall Council Chambers.

It was suggested by Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger, president. The new plan will not go into effect until January. Zollinger will explain the payroll deductions, to be made twice monthly, during the annual meeting.

Zollinger said all members will be notified by mail of the meeting. Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, secretary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver, treasurer, presented monthly reports.

Comments were heard on "how well the group has progressed" in the past few months. Four were approved for membership during October, bringing the total to 70. The union will continue its drive for 100 members by the first of the year. Anyone interested should contact Zollinger.

Francis Wise, credit committee chairman, said five new loans were approved in October. The group agreed to process and approve holiday loans as quickly as possible.

The next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 3:45 p.m. at the Council Chamber.

LISBON — A Leetonia boy too young to get a driver's license admitted four auto thefts Friday afternoon during a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Judge Louis Tobin assigned the 15-year-old to the permanent custody of the Ohio Youth Commission, since the boy had been there before.

His companion, 16, also of Leetonia, is in the detention room at the County Jail awaiting a hearing next Thursday.

Patrolman Frank Dominic of Leetonia and Sheriff's Deputy Dave Brothers apprehended the pair Thursday night.

Authorities said the younger boy stole two cars Nov. 20 and two with the other boy on Nov. 24. The 16-year-old also stole one car by himself, police said.

Officer Praised In Aiding Driver

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi received a letter Friday praising Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. for his work in helping a Lima motorist pull his car away from the curb after it had been blocked between two parked autos on E. 4th St. near Washington St.

Edgar P. Ricktenwald of Lima, an insurance agent, wrote the chief that Burson "was of great help to me on Thursday, Nov. 17, at 2 p. m. when my car was blocked in beside the YMCA."

Ricktenwald did not identify the officer in his letter, but a check of the police radio log showed that Burson was dispatched on the call. Burson recalled aiding the motorist.

"He is the kind of police officer you should be looking for when you need new ones," Ricktenwald wrote. "He saw that I got out of my predicament quickly."

A rear wheel of Ricktenwald's auto was jammed against the curb so that the car would not move. Checking license numbers, Burson located one of the other drivers to pull her car away momentarily and allow Ricktenwald to move away from the curb.

Wreck Kills Muskingum Football Star

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A star defensive halfback on Muskingum College's undefeated Ohio Conference football team, Richard William (Rick) Schneider, 22, of South Euclid, Ohio, was killed in a traffic accident on a rural road near here today.

Schneider, a senior and all Ohio Conference cornerback, was riding in a car with three other young men, one a Muskingum player, all of Columbus, when their car failed to make an "S" curve on the Rome-Hillard Road, and struck a tree at a high rate of speed.

The death was a blow to the Muskingum eleven, which is to play Tennessee State in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn., Dec. 10.

The driver of the car, Paul B. Eberts, 19; James Biggers, 18, and Henry C. Martensen, 18, were all injured and taken to hospitals for treatment.

'Premium' Bus Service

Experiment To Ease Rush-Hour Traffic Jams

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today a successful experiment to ease rush-hour traffic jams by luring people out of their cars and pampering them with "premium" bus service.

But, said the Department of Housing and Urban Development, it remains to be seen whether city transit companies can do the job on their own without the $83,616 federal grant used in the experiment.

The 14-month project even wooed commuters with free parking places at work into leaving their cars at home and riding the bus.

The special rush-hour experiment undertaken at Decatur and Peoria, Ill., started off with a single busload of 31 passengers and wound up with 17 routes carrying 542 passengers, the report said. It overlapped regular bus service in many areas.

The project was "essentially a personalized home-to-work and return express commuter service," the report said.

This meant picking up passengers virtually at their front doors, high-speed trips, free taxi rides whenever a bus broke down and a monthly billing system instead of having passengers fumble for change to drop in a fare box.

Each passenger merely showed a special "flash pass" in getting on the bus and mailed in payments of $6 to $10 a month, depending on how far they rode.

But when the federal money ran out, the troubles began. The special "premium" bus service was dropped altogether in Decatur.

It continued in Peoria, but the transit company began eliminating such frills as the free cab rides during an emergency breakdown and passengers started dropping out of the "club" at a rapid rate.

But, said the interim report, the company then began reinstituting the extras and business at last report was climbing back up again. There'll be a follow-up report later.

Judge Cites Press Freedom After Assault On Announcer

America's ancient guarantee of freedom of the press was involved in a Municipal Court case in which a Beechwood man was given a six - month jail term on a charge of assaulting a WOHI announcer, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented from the bench as he imposed the sentence Friday.

Gerald Myler, 39, of 148 Beechwood St., convicted of striking Stewart (Stu) Wilson of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, as the announcer left the station about 12:30 a.m. Nov. 18, was taken to County Jail Friday afternoon to begin serving the term.

"This is not an ordinary case," the judge commented from the bench before imposing sentence. "Freedom of the press is involved. Reporters and announcers must have the right to report the news and their views freely and fully without fear of recriminations or reprisals. This right is vital to every American."

The judge added that "the disc jockey is a recent phenomena of radio." He recalled the days when radio programs were comprised primarily of dramas and other shows and added: "Now the announcers play records and comment on the singers, the persons who wrote the songs and other things. I have found Mr. Wilson a good disc jockey and I am one of his enthusiastic listeners.

"If a disc jockey or reporter feels he will be maligned or attacked because he has offended someone innocently, he might not say or write anything," the judge continued. "When he plays a record and someone has a fanciful idea that it is directed at him — everyone in the United States could feel the same way!"

In his closing argument, Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, referred to Myler as "a dangerous man" and added that he should "not be permitted to run loose."

The judge said that after Myler was sentenced the defendant's counsel, Bernard Fineman, advised the court his client had been under the care of a psychiatrist and asked that the sentence be suspended while he remained under care. The judge said he refused to suspend the sentence unless Myler "will undergo psychiatric care in a hospital — under restraints and not as an out-patient. The sentence will be suspended while the man is under treatment and then the court will consider the question of a suspension, the judge said.

Myler also was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge filed by police.

Payroll Plan Set By Employe Unit

A proposal to set up a payroll deduction plan was approved by the East Liverpool Municipal Employes Credit Union during a meeting Friday afternoon at the City Hall Council Chambers.

It was suggested by Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger, president. The new plan will not go into effect until January. Zollinger will explain the payroll deductions, to be made twice monthly, during the annual meeting.

Zollinger said all members will be notified by mail of the meeting. Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, secretary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver, treasurer, presented monthly reports.

Comments were heard on "how well the group has progressed" in the past few months. Four were approved for membership during October, bringing the total to 70. The union will continue its drive for 100 members by the first of the year. Anyone interested should contact Zollinger.

Francis Wise, credit committee chairman, said five new loans were approved in October. The group agreed to process and approve holiday loans as quickly as possible.

The next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 3:45 p.m. at the Council Chamber.

His companion, 16, also of Leetonia, is in the detention room at the County Jail awaiting a hearing next Thursday.

Officer Praised In Aiding Driver

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi received a letter Friday praising Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. for his work in helping a Lima motorist pull his car away from the curb after it had been blocked between two parked autos on E. 4th St. near Washington St.

Edgar P. Ricktenwald of Lima, an insurance agent, wrote the chief that Burson "was of great help to me on Thursday, Nov. 17, at 2 p. m. when my car was blocked in beside the YMCA."

Ricktenwald did not identify the officer in his letter, but a check of the police radio log showed that Burson was dispatched on the call. Burson recalled aiding the motorist.

"He is the kind of police officer you should be looking for when you need new ones," Ricktenwald wrote. "He saw that I got out of my predicament quickly."

A rear wheel of Ricktenwald's auto was jammed against the curb so that the car would not move. Checking license numbers, Burson located one of the other drivers to pull her car away momentarily and allow Ricktenwald to move away from the curb.
